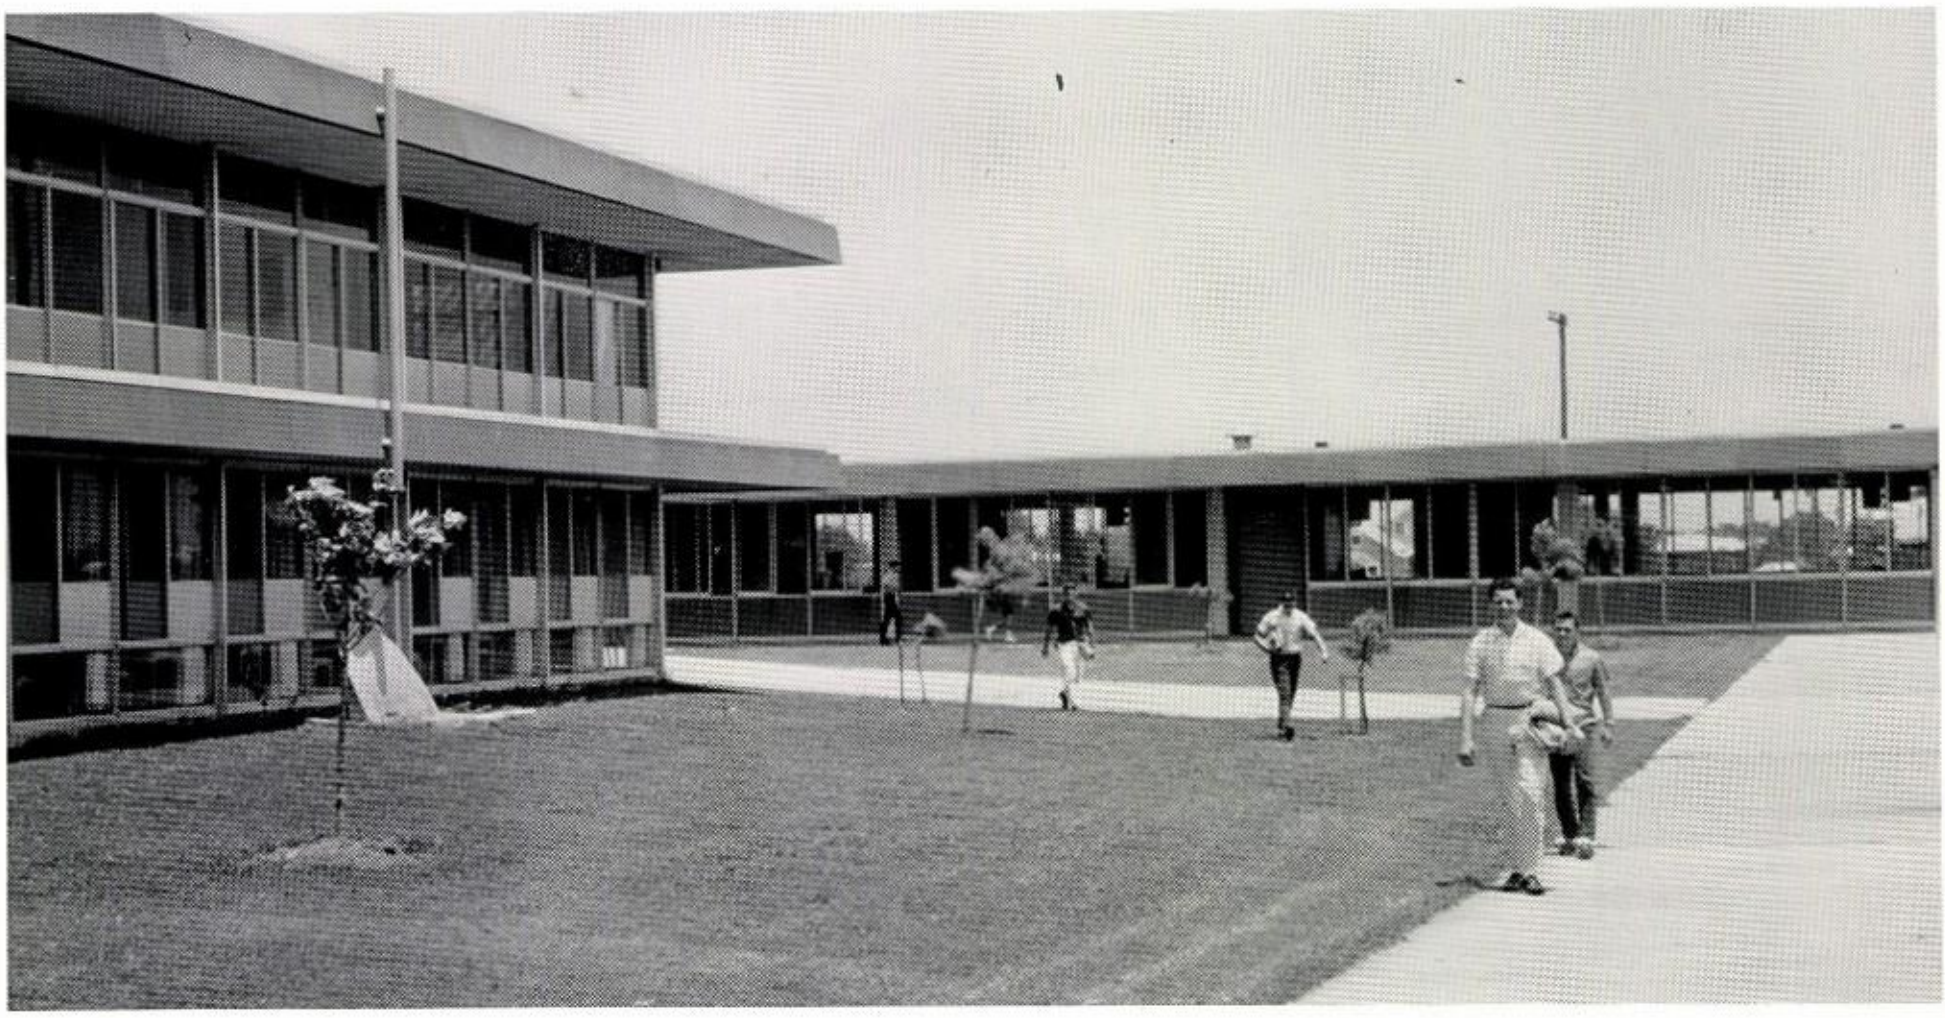
Vitality and Freshness



THE COURTYARD EMERGES from winter wraps . . .

. . . and the breezeway increases in popularity.

The Lively Ones

The Lively Ones . . .

"Beat South Park!"

"Poor little Indian boys . . .
Jackets gonna beat these . . ."

They all start this way at TJ—the happy years, the slow years, the mediocre, and THE LIVELY ONES.

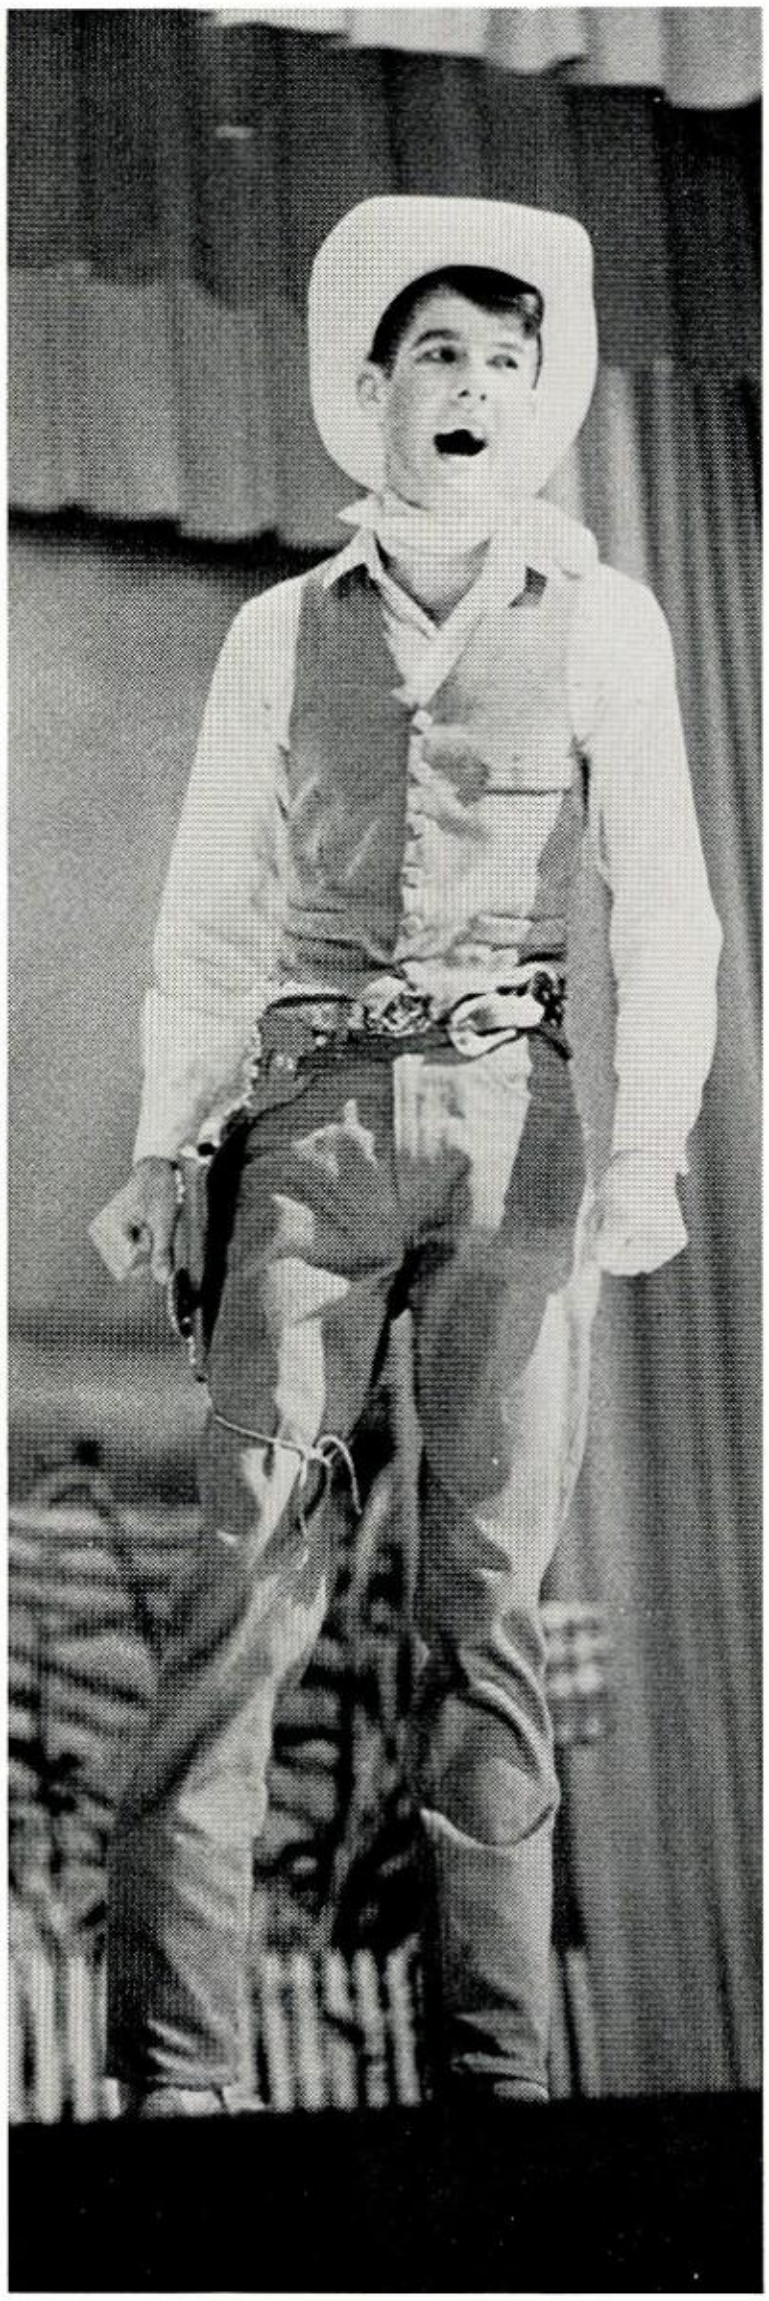
The calendar marks the sports seasons, club activities, difficult classes, easy ones, finals, graduation.

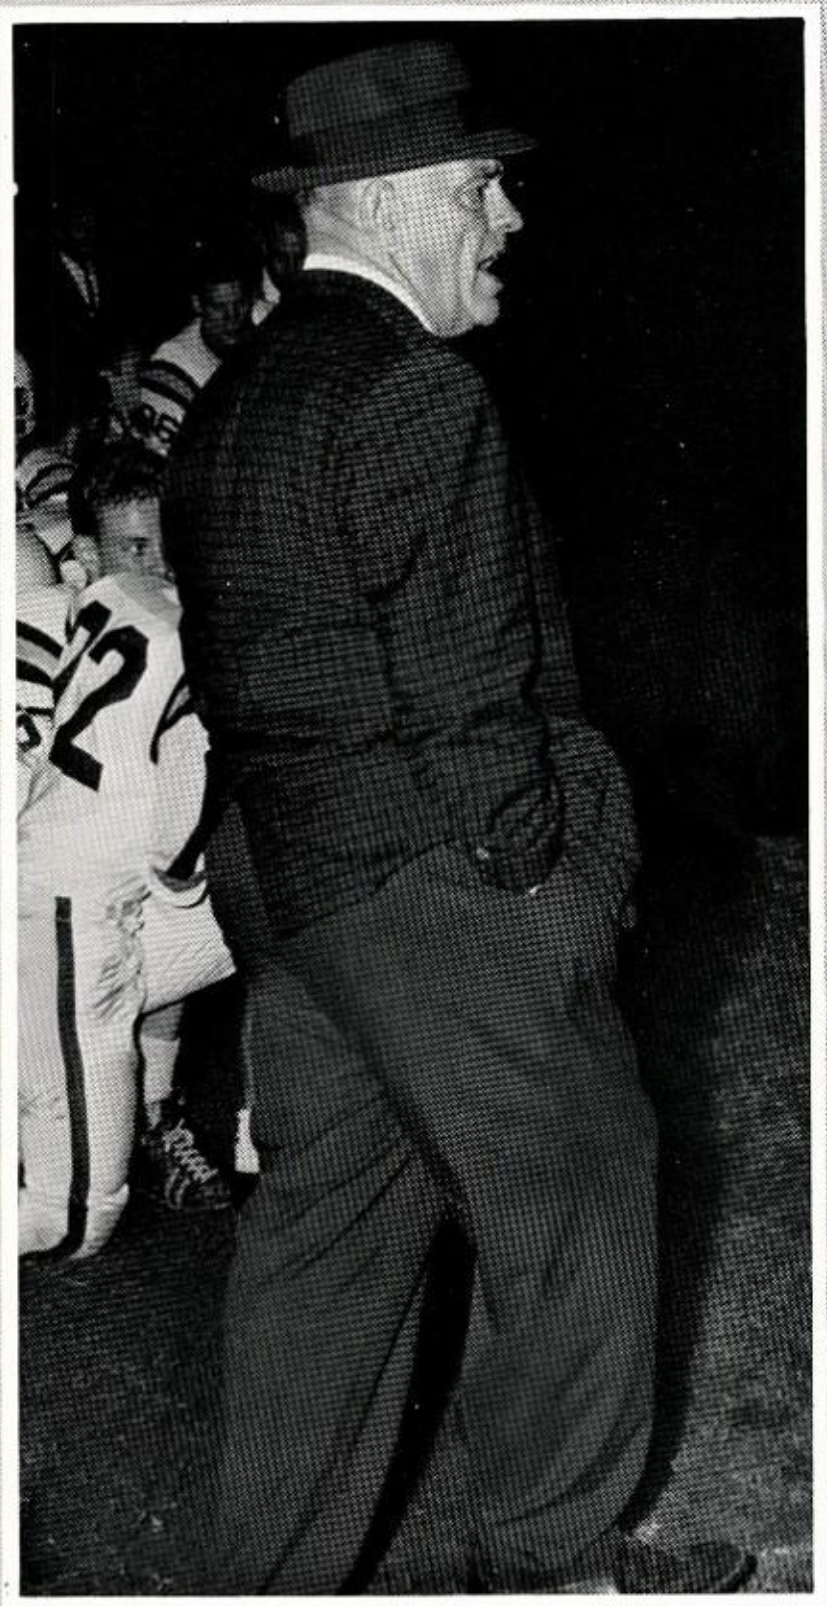
The time between—that's what counts; the spirit makes the difference. It distinguishes the slow years from THE LIVELY ONES.

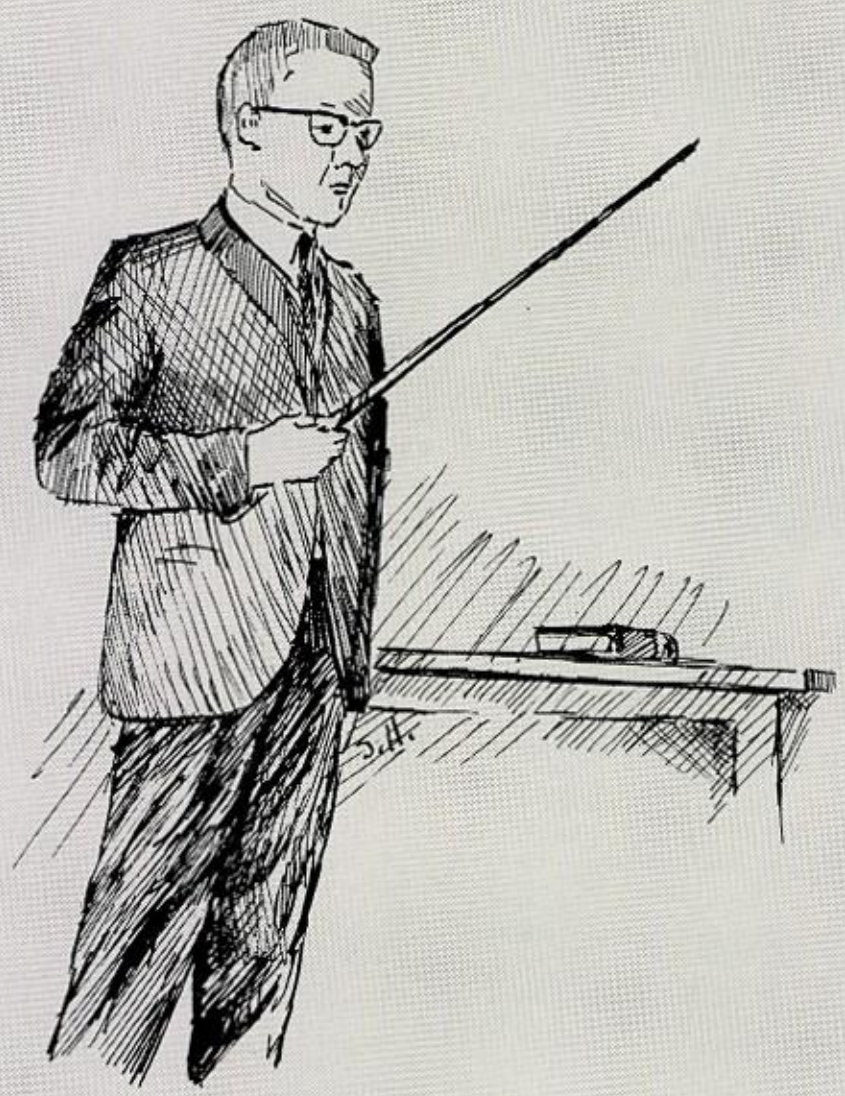
That intangible quality . . . a vigor, a life, a "something special" . . . made this a year of outstanding achievements.

The year is over, but the charged energy it generated will never die; it has become the symbol of the new generation of Americans . . .

THE LIVELY ONES!







FACULTY

1963-64: A Year of

Mr. Clyde M. Gott, principal of Thomas Jefferson High School, believes that a principal's chief purpose is to direct the instructional program of the school. Planning, organizing, and supervising all phases of school life are other responsibilities of the principal.

Mr. Gott is well qualified to direct instruction at Thomas Jefferson. He attained his Bachelor of Science degree at Southwest Texas State Teachers' College, which is also the alma mater of President Lyndon Johnson. At the University of Texas Mr. Gott received his Master of Science degree in educational administration; at the present time he is working toward the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

Progress in Education

The Port Arthur Independent School District achieved a major goal this year—the completion and opening of the new G. M. Sims Elementary School. Progress in enlarging educational facilities has always been foremost in the minds of those who lead the school district. Mr. Z. T. Fortescue, superintendent, the members of the school board, and the administrators are constantly striving to improve Port Arthur's already fine educational system.

This year two new members, Mr. J. C. Rabuck and Mr. Maurice Born, were elected to the school board and contributed their knowledge and abilities to making this year a successful one for education in Port Arthur.

MR. Z. T. FORTESCUE, superintendent, plans his day's work with his secretary, Miss Juliette George.

SERVING ON THE school board this year are Mr. Nelson B. Haskell, Mr. M. L. Rosenberg, Dr. R. J. Shields, Mr. Z. T. Fortescue, Mr. Maurice Born, Mr. J. C. Rabuck, Mrs. R. L. Murray, Mr. A. E. Patterson, and Mr. Edwin Baldwin.

Administration

The administration of a large, modern high school, such as Thomas Jefferson, is complex and requires the joint efforts of many highly-trained and capable people. Much planning on the part of school leaders has contributed greatly to a successful year.

Guidance and counseling are also of major importance at Thomas Jefferson. A comprehensive testing program and individual conferences help students map out their high school and college or career plans.

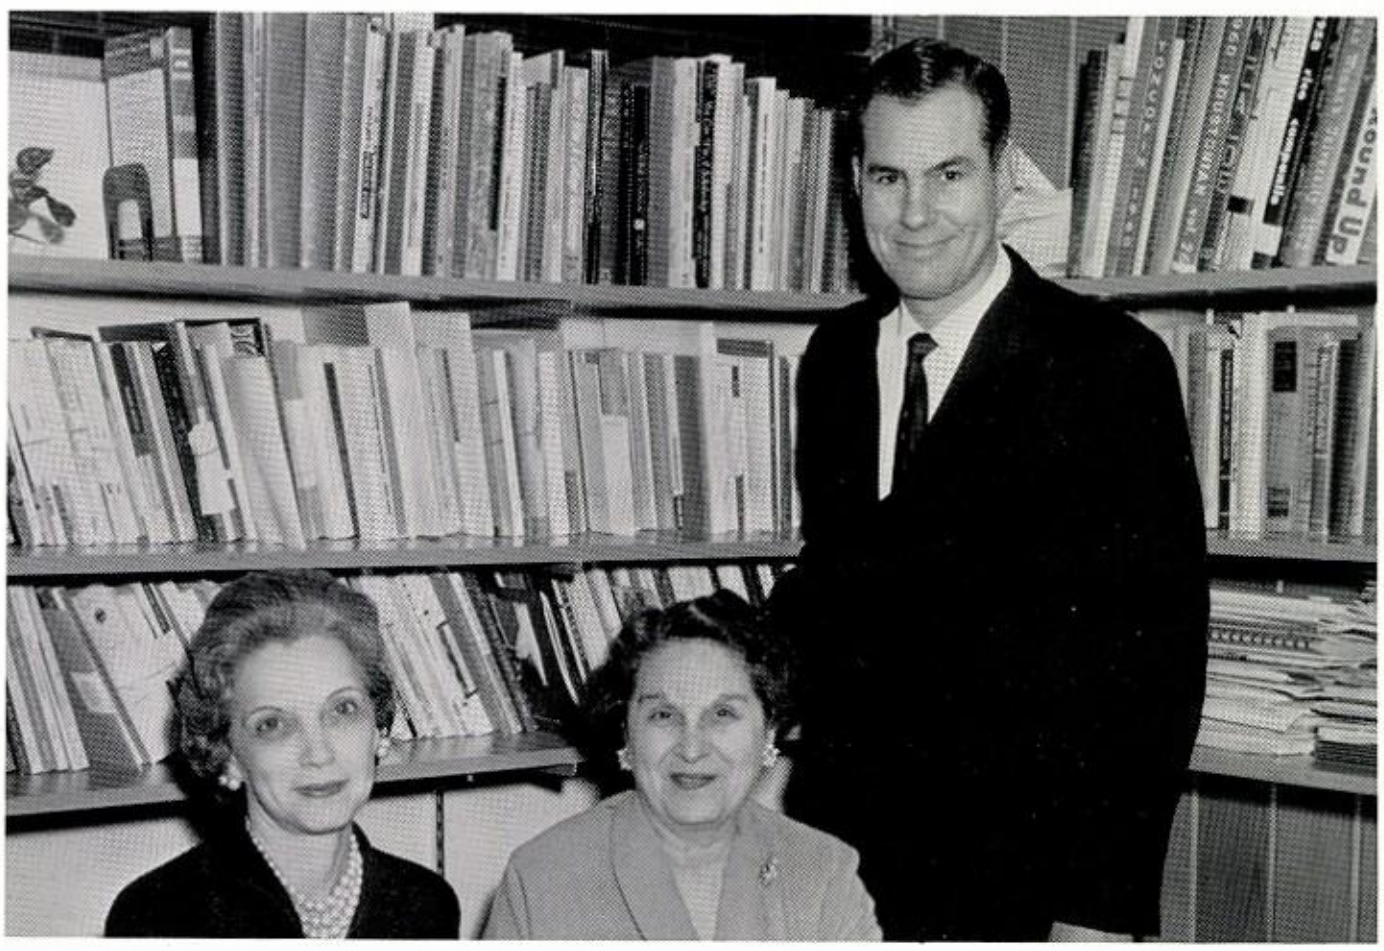
MAKING PLANS FOR the school year are Dr. Frank Leathers, director of curriculum in secondary schools; Mr. A. E. Patterson, business manager; and Mr. Alexander Koerth, assistant superintendent of schools. Dr. Leathers left Port Arthur to assume the position of superintendent of schools in Lufkin.

MR. BEN KIKER, director of student activities, pauses for a moment during an assembly program. Mr. Kiker is in charge of assemblies, Congress, school dances, and many other student projects at TJ.

and Guidance

"EDUCATION STRENGTHENS THE NATION" is the slogan for American Education Week, and Mr. Lonnie Devall, assistant principal, does much to assure TJ students of a strong education.

HARD AT WORK is Miss Jeannette Tenney, attendance secretary.



SCANNING THE LATEST college and career bulletins are Mrs. Edna Hargus, counselor, Miss Louise Erwin, director of education guidance, and Mr. Arthur Morgan, counselor.

Proper Use of English

MRS. ISABELLA BJERRING, chairman of the English Department, has long been a world traveler. Her classes benefit from her talks on life in other parts of the world. This year Mrs. Bjerring represented Thomas Jefferson High School at the National Council of Teachers of English convention in San Francisco.

Competence in the use of English is vital today in all fields of endeavor. Almost every job requires mastery of basic language skills, and college work demands proficiency in all phases of English. With these goals in mind, TJ offers a good foundation in English to all its students.

English is a broad subject that includes a variety of study areas, such as expository and creative writing, literature in all its forms, and the mechanics of the language, grammar. Class and outside work provide students with much practice in all these areas and train them to use English effectively.

SETTING UP THIS student project of "The King and I" did not really require all these hands, but it served as an amusing center of interest for a picture of these English teachers: Miss Doris Crisp, English III and IV; Mrs. Margaret Barry, English II and IV; Mr. John Aikman, English II; Mrs. Faye Lynn White, English II and III; Mr. Kerry Kent Morris, English II and III; and Miss Nancy Creswell, English II and III.

Is Essential to Success

THE NEW ELECTRIC laminator in the English office covers important papers with a protective plastic coating. Miss Peggy Bruce, English II, reads the instructions as Mrs. Margaret Parker, English III and IV, pulls the lever. Looking on are Miss Tommye Hogue, English II and III, and Mr. William Green, English III and IV.

CHECKING THE PILOT'S coverage of the junior-senior play are Mrs. Ethel Redman and Mr. Louis King. Mrs. Redman teaches English II and journalism, and Mr. King teaches speech and drama.

THE PAPERBACK LIBRARY in Miss Jayne Smith's room is attractive to teachers, as well as students. Selecting books to recommend to their classes are Mr. Kenneth Parker, English III and IV; Miss Ann Jones, English II and IV; Miss Jayne Smith, English III and IV; and Miss Margaret Miller, English II.

Math Helps Students

KEEPING UP-TO-DATE on the latest developments in the complex field of mathematics is no small task, but Miss Lavern McMillan, chairman of the Math. Department, has a wealth of newly-published books for use as source material.

BULLETIN BOARDS AND charts often help in teaching mathematical concepts. Evaluating a student's project are three new teachers in the department this year: Mr. Gary Corley, geometry and consumer math.; Mrs. Myrtle Arnett, geometry and consumer math.; and Mr. Michael Johnson, geometry.

GRADING FINAL EXAMINATIONS is often as tiresome to teachers as is studying for them to students. Miss Mab Lynn Hill and Miss Irene Smith, two of TJ's algebra teachers, find the job lightened somewhat when they see some of the amusing, if incorrect, answers written by students.

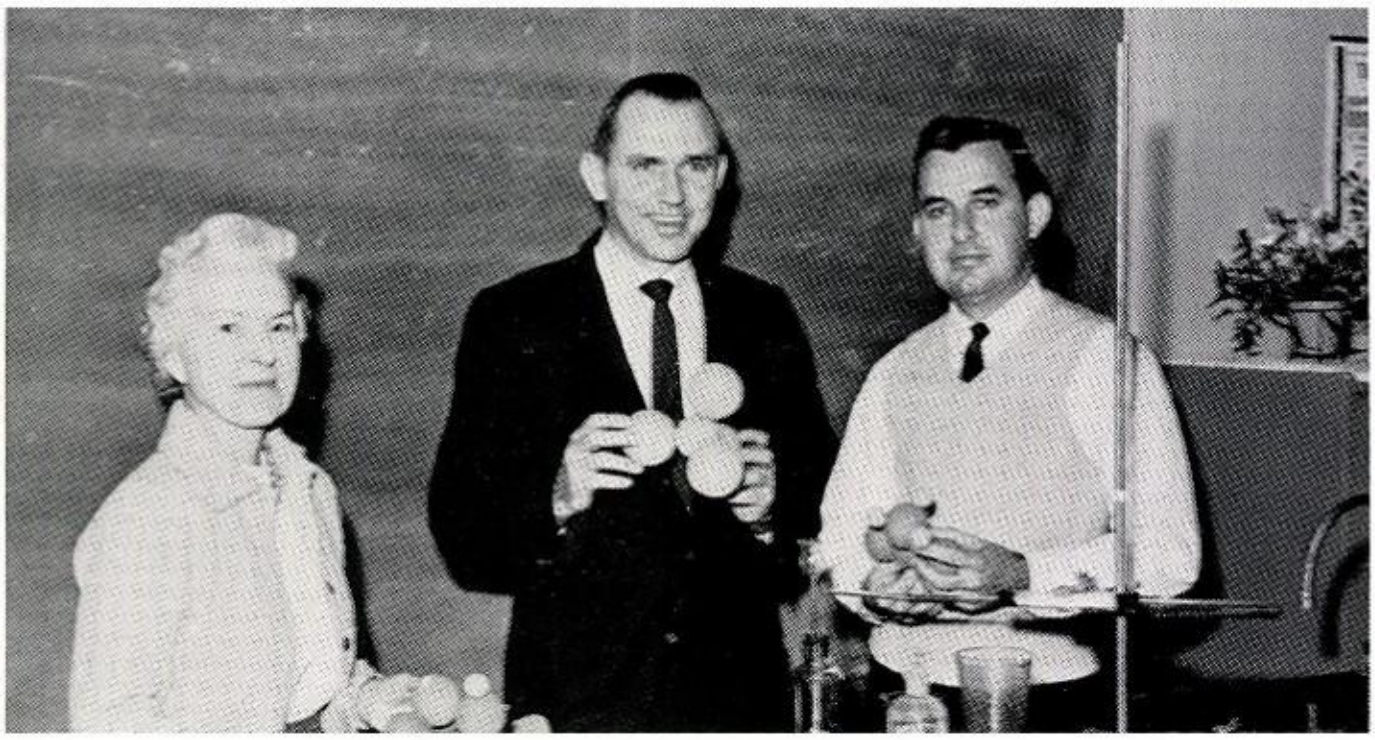
Plan Varied Futures

THE SIGN SAYS MATHEMATICS, and so do these teachers whose job it is to provide students with a strong mathematical background: Mrs. Nora Gregory, algebra and geometry; Mr. Shelby Adams, geometry and consumer math; Mrs. LaVerna Kiefer, trigonometry, elementary analysis, and probability and statistics; Mrs. Martha Taylor, algebra, trigonometry, and elementary analysis; Mr. B. O. Wisener, algebra and geometry; and Mr. Hobart Ward, algebra and geometry. Mr. Ward is also an administrative assistant at TJ.

"Honestly, I've never seen such grades!"

Math. courses at TJ are designed to meet the needs of all pupils, regardless of their future plans. College-bound students may take four years of mathematics; they study algebra, geometry, trigonometry, and elementary analysis; those in the accelerated program study more advanced math. in the twelfth grade. Students planning to work after graduation may take consumer math., which will equip them to handle mathematics in everyday life and in the business world.

Science Courses Keep



MRS. REVA WESTERMAN, Mr. Jack Sell, and Mr. Darrell Ardoin, TJ's chemistry teachers, find models of molecules helpful in teaching the complex structure of substances. In addition to chemistry, Biology I and the new Biology II are taught by Mr. Sell. Mr. Ardoin also teaches classes in biology.

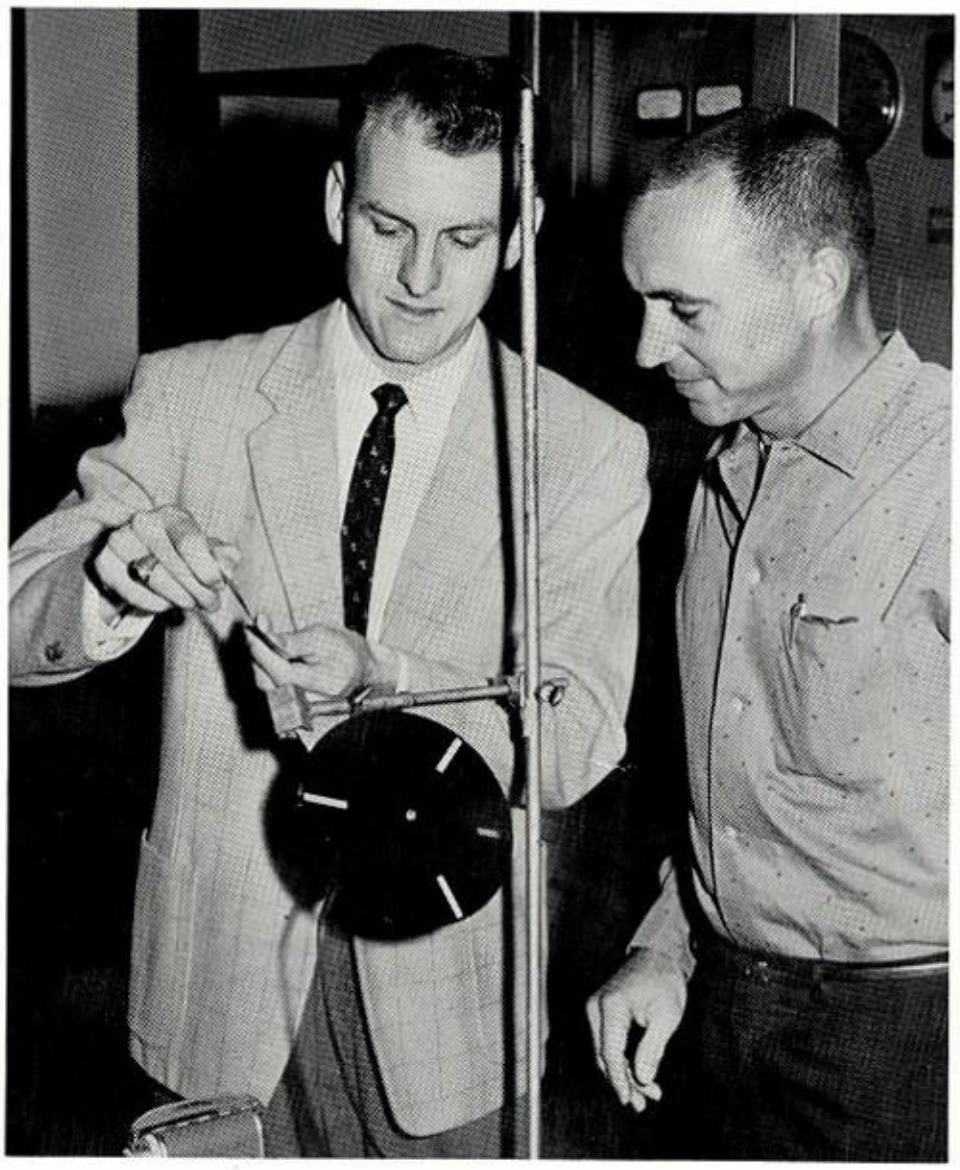
AFTER A YEAR of teaching in Germany, Miss Martha Butler returned to Port Arthur to assume the position of head of the Science Department. Miss Butler uses this human torso model to illustrate biological principles.

In the fast-moving world of science the value of a top quality education cannot be overemphasized. Basic courses, such as biology and chemistry, provide students with a sound scientific background; more advanced courses, such as physics and second-year biology, enable those students truly interested in science to explore new areas and work on individual projects.

Pace With the Modern World

EXAMINING SPECIMENS UNDER the microscope is an important phase of the study of biology. Mr. Alfred Hebert, Mr. Billy Willis, Mr. John Godwin, and Mrs. Sandra Shaw all teach biology and spend much time selecting suitable slides for class use.

MR. BOB BILLINGS, who teaches applied science, receives a lesson in stroboscopic techniques as demonstrated by Mr. Billy Tolar, physics teacher.



NOEL, NOEL,—CHRISTMAS parties are for teachers too!

Social Studies Educate

MANY INTERESTING AND informative books on American history are available to TJ students. Scanning a book of special interest to Texans are Mrs. Jo An Carver, world history and government-economics; Mrs. Mary Evelyn Hayes, government-economics; Mrs. Jewel McEwen, American history; and Mr. Hugh LeBaron, American history.

THE NEW ADMINISTRATION under President Johnson is the subject of a lecture by Mr. Terrell Stansell, head of the Social Studies Department.

MODELS HELP ILLUSTRATE various phases of life during many historical periods. Mr. Joe Price and Miss Ara Golmon, American history teachers, and Mr. Roger Griffin, world history teacher, examine models that span the centuries from knighthood to aviation.

Tomorrow's Citizens

THE SOCIAL STUDIES office is a busy place as teachers type material and run off tests for their classes. Hurrying to finish before homeroom are Mr. John Aikman, world history; Miss Eleanor Wall, government-economics; Mr. Lionel Rowland, American history; and Miss Mary Eunice Vickers, government-economics.

Does history repeat itself? Students at TJ may not know the answer to that question, but they know the answers to many other questions pertaining to world history, American history, government, and economics. A knowledge of these subjects is an essential part of becoming a well-informed, interested citizen, the kind of citizen America needs in today's rapidly-changing world.

TEACHERS KEEP UP with current events too. Before class the day's news is reviewed by Miss Virginia Cain, American history, and Miss Alice Anderson, government-economics.

CHOW TIME!

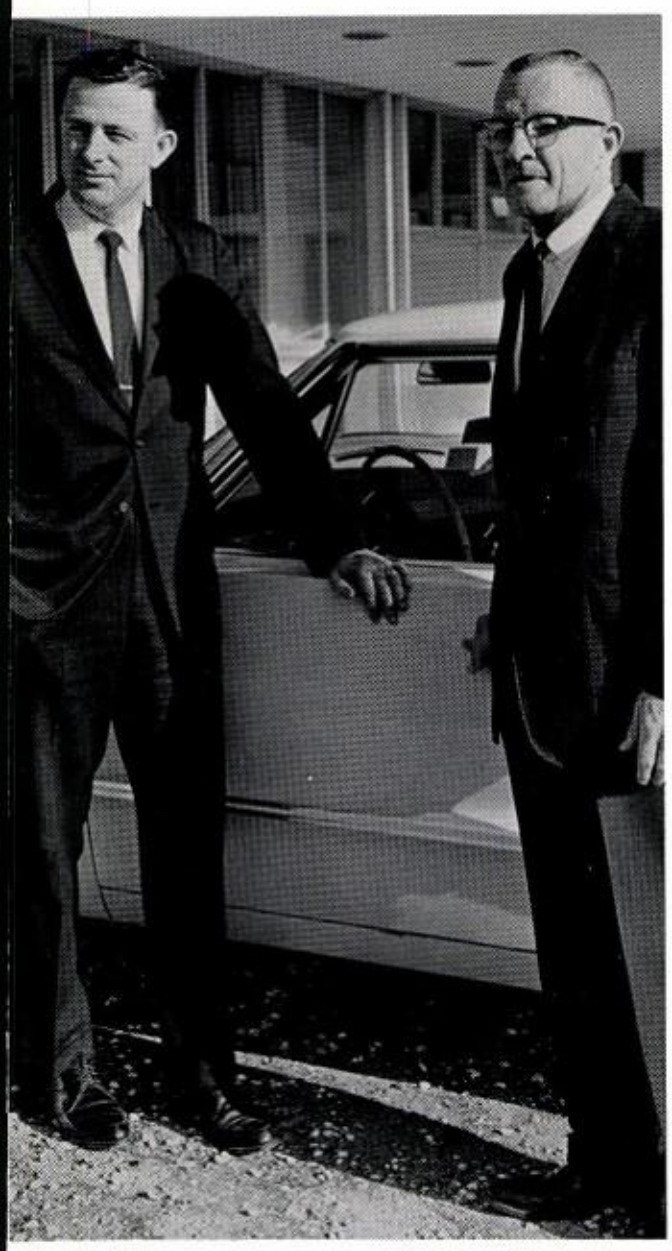
Languages: Key to Understanding

MANY AND VARIED are the new books used in teaching foreign languages. Examining some of them are Mrs. Judy Heard, Latin; Miss Margaret McGinty, Spanish; Miss Peggy Bruce, French; Miss Sandra Cole, French; Mr. Ernesto Guzman, Spanish; and Mr. Michael Johnson, German. New at TJ this year are Mrs. Heard, Miss Bruce, and Mr. Johnson.

Since a changing world demands increased proficiency in linguistic skills and since language is a tool for better understanding, the different courses—French, Spanish, German, and Latin—are designed to meet these needs. The modern languages are taught by the audio-lingual method and stress skill in speech and comprehension, while Latin offers a general cultural background and a wide historical perspective.

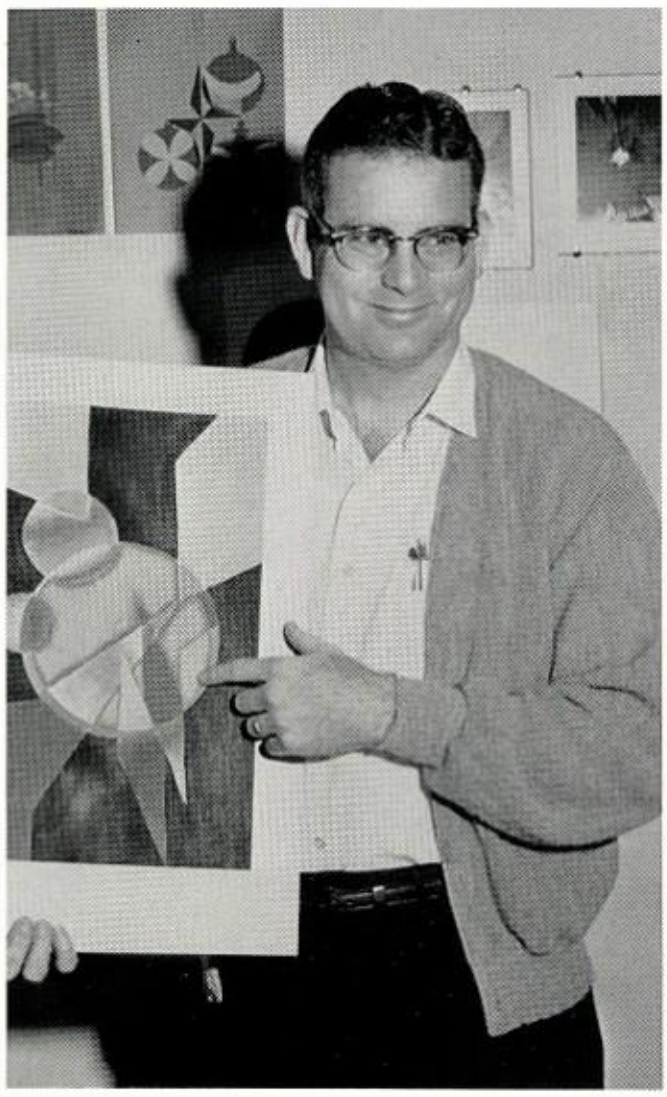
PLANNING LESSONS FOR her Latin classes is just one part of the job for Mrs. Geraldine Johnson, chairman of the Foreign Languages Department.

Art, Music, Literature Enrich TJ



MR. JACK BOTTOMS, choir director, and Mr. John Badgett, band director, survey the lines of seniors practicing for graduation exercises. Both the band and the choir will lose good members in June.

Books and magazines of all descriptions, paintings and other art forms, instrumental and vocal music—all these enrich the lives of TJ students and faculty. The library furnishes information on numerous subjects of interest to students struggling with research papers, as well as books of fiction, poetry, and drama. Art classes, contests, and exhibits enable students to develop their talents and display their work. Music, both vocal and instrumental, provides the school and community with programs of entertainment, such as the band's half-time maneuvers, and inspiration, such as the choral department's Christmas concert.



MR. ROGER RUSSELL, art teacher, shows his class one of the paintings to be submitted in a contest. Though art is his primary interest, Mr. Russell also teaches an English class.

MRS. MARCELLE PITMAN, head librarian, and Mrs. Jean Manning, librarian, face the prospect of filling new bookcases bought to contain the many volumes in TJ's growing library.

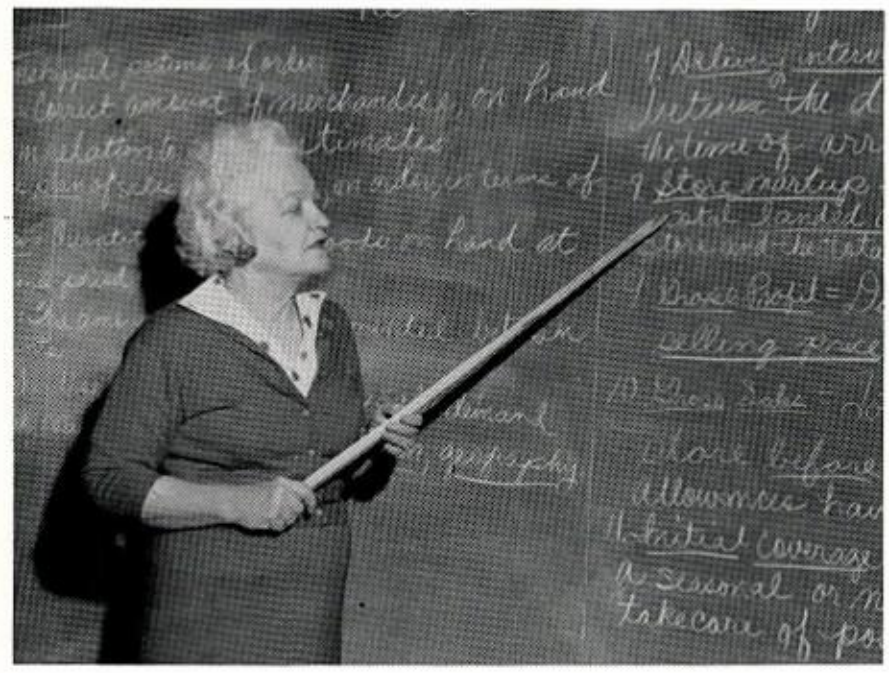
Practical Skills Contribute

Teaching skills that will be useful after graduation is a major goal of three departments—Homemaking, Industrial Arts, and Business. Through working on group and individual projects, students develop self-reliance and resourcefulness in meeting practical situations and attain habits of orderliness and efficiency in completing tasks.

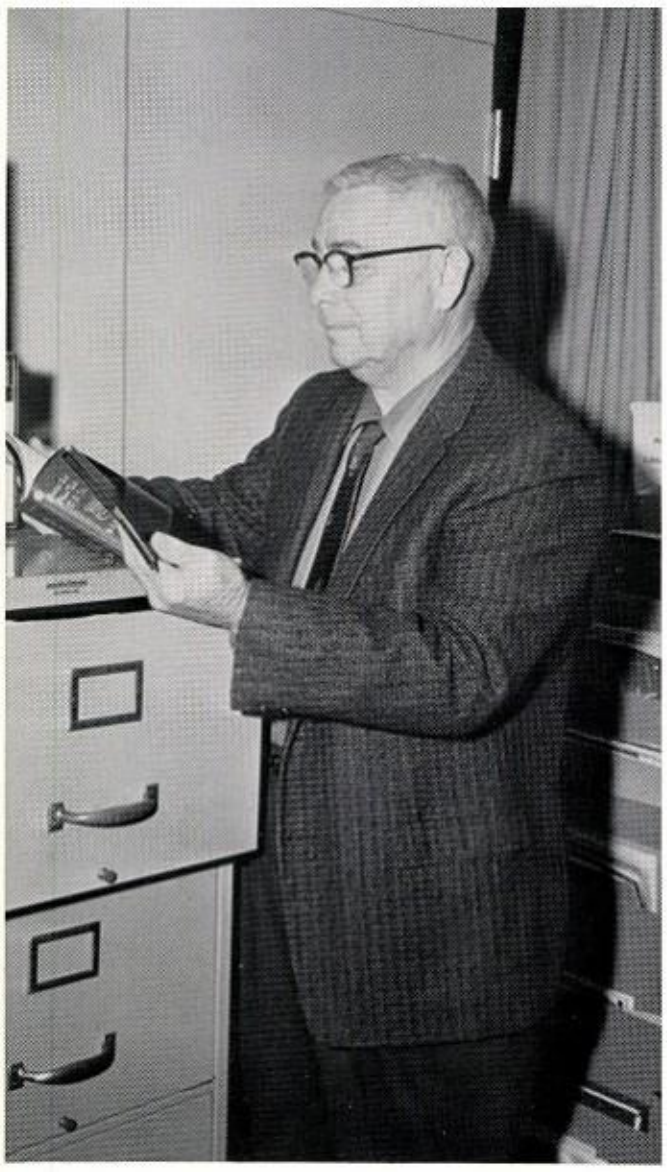
FASHION MAGAZINES ARE valuable sources for ideas and styles in the clothing classes taught by Mrs. Janis Lindemann and Miss Sheila Scott.

LEAVING HER OFFICE is Mrs. Pat Reed, head of the Home Economics Department. Mrs. Reed teaches three classes in foods.

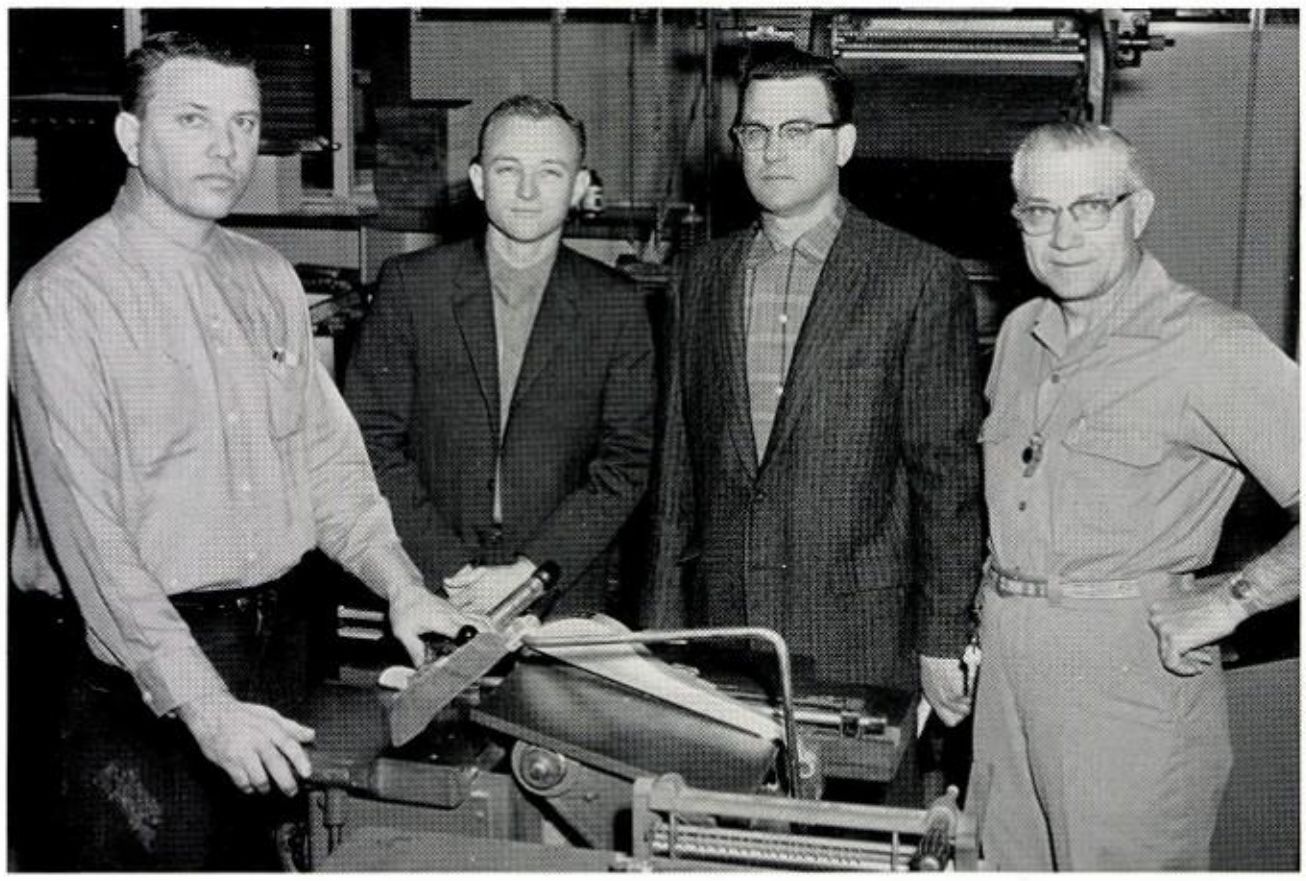
THE VOCABULARY OF the business world is important knowledge to a DE student. Mrs. Dell Hille, DE teacher, discusses the meaning of words used in retail merchandising.



To Total Education



MR. W. G. JONES, head of the Industrial Arts Department, checks over a particular aspect of a current project. Many important services are performed by the shop classes; for example, student directories and football programs are printed by the boys in printshop.

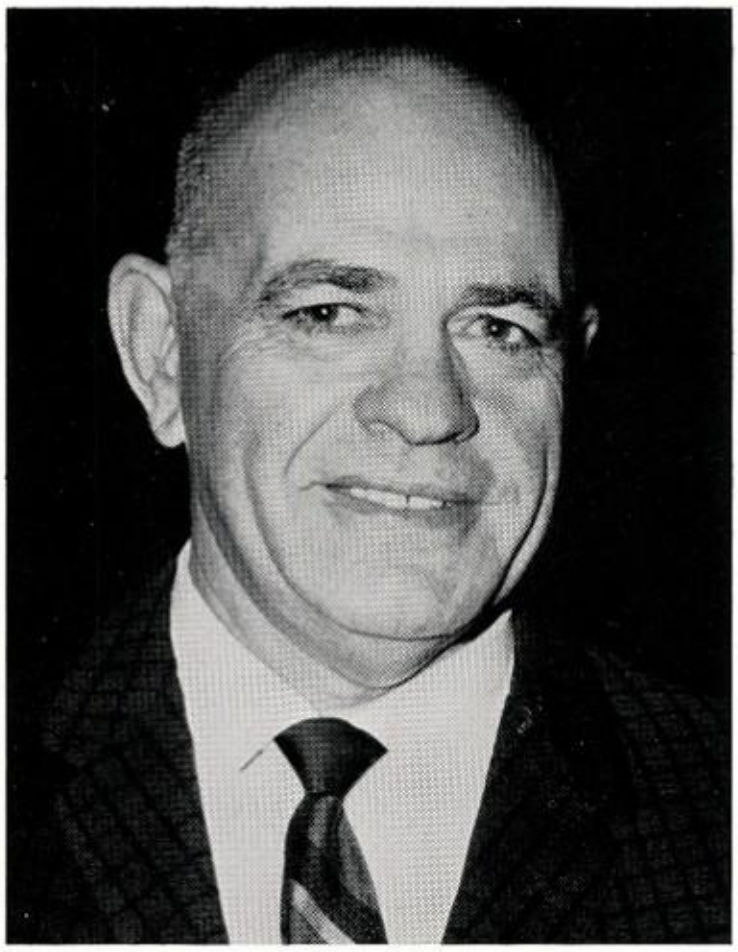


MR. GENE JACKSON, printshop teacher, demonstrates some of his equipment to Mr. Hugh Shaw, Mr. Marvin Cichowski, and Mr. Leland Kay. Mr. Shaw teaches mechanical drawing and metalshop; Mr. Cichowski, mechanical drawing; Mr. Kay, woodshop. Knowledge acquired in these classes will be valuable to boys long after graduation.

GRADING PAPERS AND checking book numbers are necessary jobs for Miss Eola Gunstream, chairman of the Business Education Department. Miss Gunstream teaches shorthand in addition to her supervisory duties.

THE TYPEWRITER IS the subject of a discussion among TJ business teachers. Varied commercial courses are taught by the following: Mrs. Linda Bentley, typing and business communications; Mr. Rex Copeland, general business and typing; Mrs. Betty Cowan, typing; Mr. P. T. Reynolds, bookkeeping and typing; and Mrs. Mable Swanzy, shorthand and typing.

Boys' P.E. Department Produces Athletes

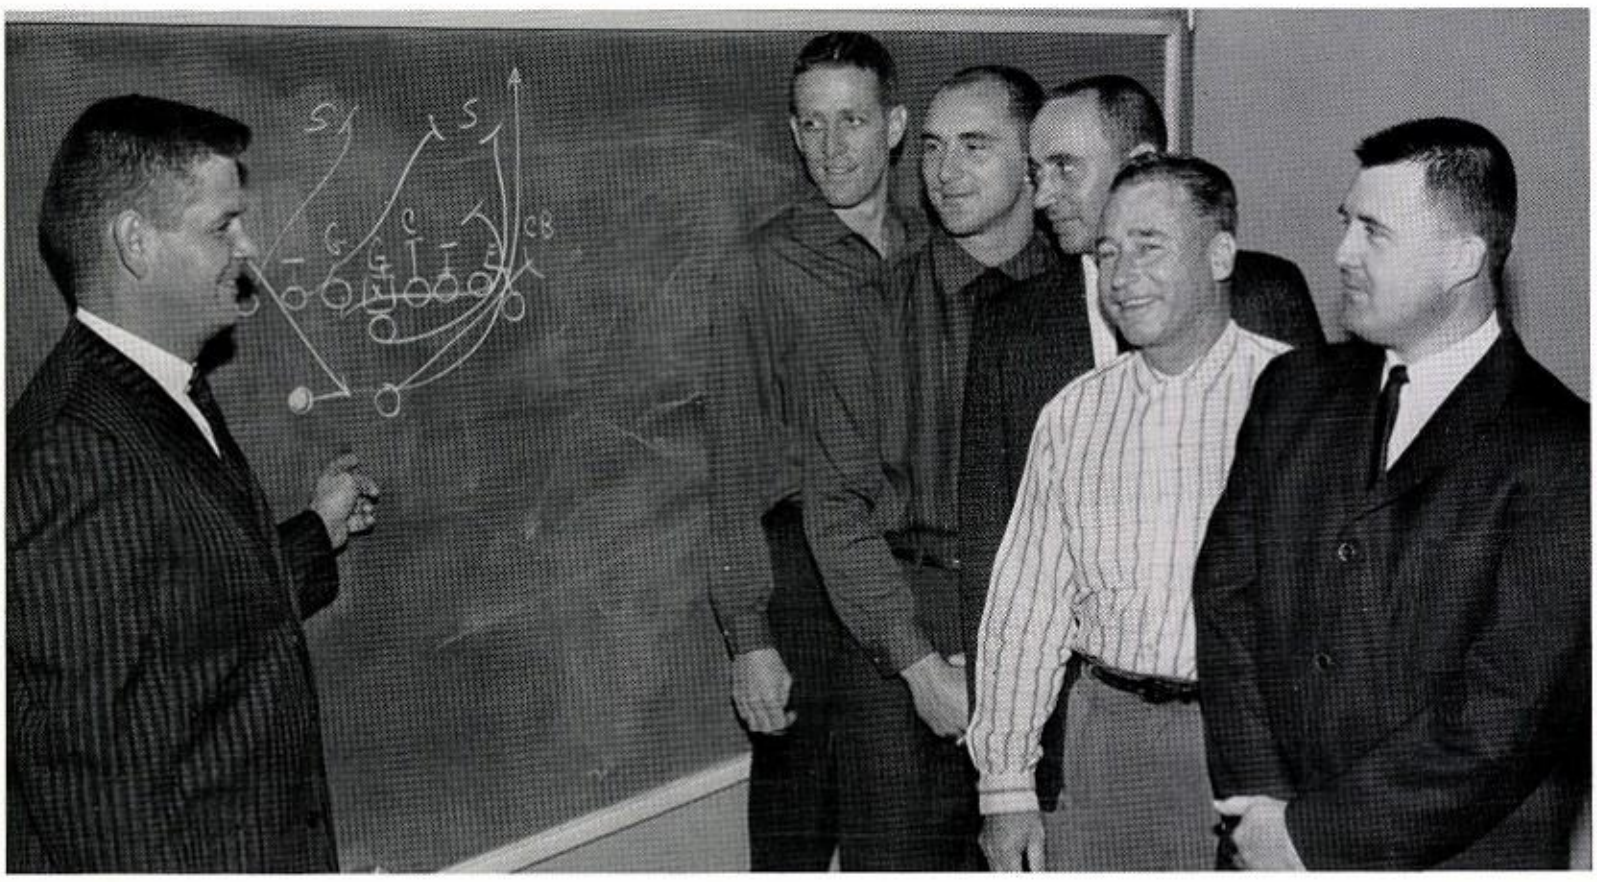


COACH CLARENCE UNDERWOOD has a dual job at TJ. He is the chairman of the Boys' Physical Education Department and head coach of the Yellow Jacket football team.

Developing abilities and keeping fit are part of every boy's education at TJ. Through a varied program of exercises and sports they are trained in many areas of proficiency. The health course this year presented the facts about alcohol and narcotics and stressed their harmful effects on the body.

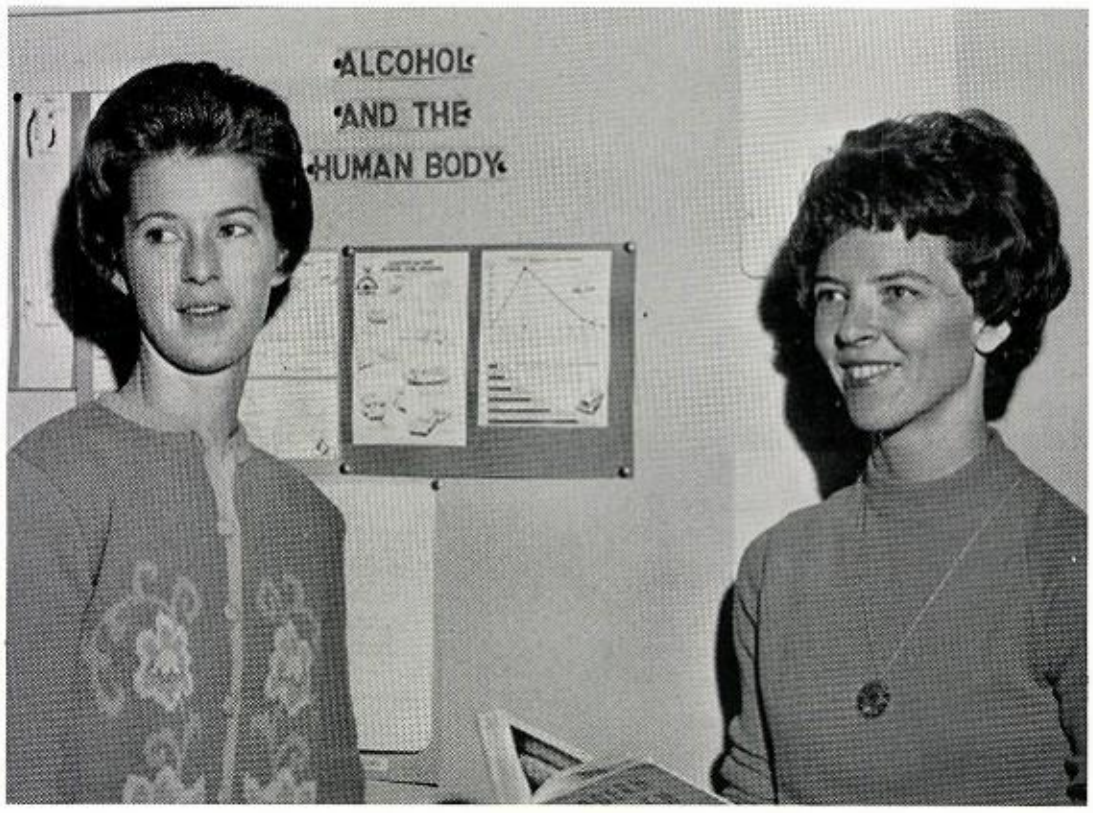
DRIVER EDUCATION IS one answer to the problem of traffic safety, and Coach Bentley Jones is the man responsible for teaching this important course to TJ students.

FOOTBALL IS A year-round topic of discussion in the Boys' P.E. Department. Coach Francis Hill explains a new play to Coaches Rodney Pirtle, Marvin Kunkel, Bob Billings, Henry Clark, and Howard Tippett.



Girls' P.E. Stresses Fitness

The Girls' Physical Education Department stresses physical fitness and offers activities which can be used later in life to continue physical conditioning. This year the department's program has been set up on a three-year cycle so that all students will be able to participate in all activities. Fundamental skills are emphasized in class, while competition is encouraged in the extracurricular GRA.



ALCOHOL, NARCOTICS, AND tobacco were the three subjects covered in health classes this year. Pointing out the harm alcohol can do to a person are Miss Marie Bohlmann and Miss Nancy McLain. Miss Bohlmann is a new teacher in the department this year.

ATTRACTIVE POSTERS AND bulletin boards, such as the one in the background, have brightened the girls' dressing room this year and are the handiwork of Mrs. Laverne McWilliams. Lending a hand in the newest creation is Mrs. June Chambless.

DEMONSTRATING THE PROPER techniques in playing volleyball is Miss Bertha Hebert, head of the Girls' Physical Education Department.

Many People Help

CHECKING ART WORK done in their special education classes are Mr. Charles Roethke and Mr. Paul Williams.

Special education classes, health services, cafeteria management and administration, and student teaching—all these functions aid in the smooth operation of Thomas Jefferson High School.

All the people represented here share a common bond—patience, helpfulness, and an understanding of students' needs and desires.

MRS. JESSIE JUDD MILLER, TJ's nurse, finds the job of recording information on a student's health form simplified by an up-to-date filing system.

STUDENT TEACHERS RECEIVE valuable classroom experience and contribute their enthusiasm and recent training to the education of students. Four of these student teachers and the teachers with whom they are working this year are Miss Rebecca Seward (Mrs. McEwan), Mrs. Betty Keels (Mrs. Swanzy), Miss Sena Walters (Miss Crisp), and Mr. Jim Boone (Mr. Badgett).

TJ Run Smoothly

COOKING AND SERVING lunch to hungry students is the main concern of the cafeteria staff. Preparing platters of hamburgers and hot dogs are Mrs. Gracie Hlavinka, Mrs. Stella Franks, Mrs. Audrey Smith, Mrs. Ruby Gunther, Mrs. Lottie Winverg, Mrs. Nova Brookshier, Mrs. Isabelle Landry, and Mrs. Sally Thompson.

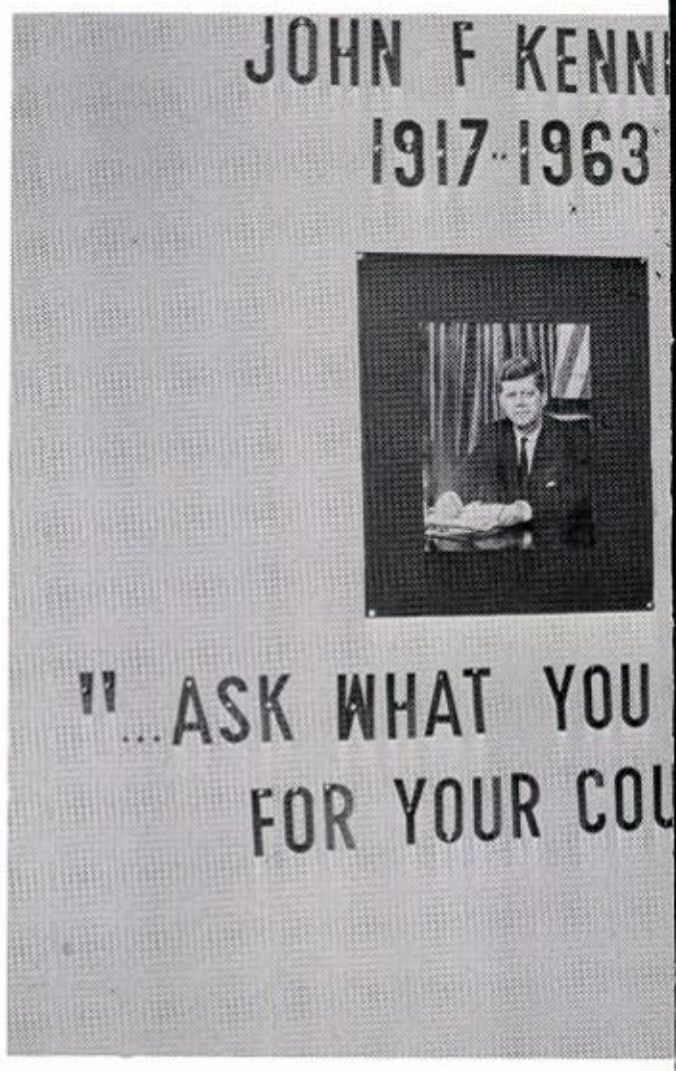
COUNTING THE MONEY and balancing the books are part of the day's work for Mrs. Madelene Gautreaux, cafeteria manager.

MR. JERRY MABE (second from left) came at midterm to teach social studies. Getting some helpful teaching hints from him are these student teachers: Mr. Tom Gorzycki (Miss Jones), Mr. Gerald Craven (Miss Smith,) and Mr. Mickey Trainer (Mr. King.) Student teachers not pictured are Mr. William Stafford (Mrs. Shaw), Mr. Vernon Crowder (Mr. Hill), and Mr. Leo Chelette (Mr. Griffin).

Teachers Evoke Ready

Future Teachers hear Mr. Walter Dezelle urge their attendance of a Special Education Workshop. He points out the need for young teachers trained to instruct those with special problems in learning.

Director John L. Badgett can be heard giving his directions for blocks around if he so chooses. The new loud speaker was presented him by the band at the spring concert.



Response From Jeffites

Mr. Reynolds' homeroom seldom lags in assorted drives. They were winners in the Senior class for contributions to All-School Chest drive.

Mr. Roger Griffin's classes shared in the shock when President Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas.

Teachers and students welcomed parents during Public Schools Week.

Play Wins District Honors

"Slave With Two Faces"

Thomas Jefferson's entry for the District 11-AAAA Interscholastic League One-Act Play Contest was "A Slave With Two Faces" by Mary Carolyn Davis. The cast members were Bill Hebinck, Jennifer Huber, Roxie Roll, Bobby Hall, Bill Johnson, Karen Johnson, Judy Boullon, and George Randell. They were directed by Miss Nancy Creswell, Mr. Michael Trainer and Mr. Louis King. Thomas Jefferson's play won first place and Bill Hebinck and Jennifer Huber won the District 11-AAAA Best Actor and Best Actress Award. Bill Johnson was named a member of the All-Star Cast. The play was presented in Regional Contest at the University of Houston in Houston.

Debaters in Active Program

Prissy Jordan, Justin Campbell, Theresa Marks, and Bob Thompson made many a speech.

The four debaters took part in a wide variety of speech tournaments during the year, their efforts resulting in valuable experience for them and good representation for their school. After participating in summer training programs at Lamar Tech and the University of Texas, Bob and Justin led the way in competition at meets in Tulane University, Spring Branch of Houston, and Baylor University. Thompson scored a second place in extemporaneous speech at the Bellaire tournament, a first at Spring Branch in original oratory, and first in extemporaneous speech at Lamar Tech. The boys' team placed first in district Interscholastic League, while the girls' team overcame regional opposition and represented the school in the state meet.

The highlight of the year for Bob came in March when he represented Texas in the Veteran of Foreign Wars "Voice of Democracy" contest in Washington, D. C.

Head Coach
CLARENCE UNDERWOOD

A coach is a person of many qualities. He must have the patience to teach, the wisdom to know when to admonish and when to praise, the ability to inspire his players, and the willingness to work hard for success. Thomas Jefferson is fortunate to have a coaching staff exemplified by these characteristics.

Coach Underwood puts much more into his profession than is required of a coach. He has a genuine love for the game and is interested in building up the characters of his players as well as their bodies. Men like him are responsible for the tremendous popularity football enjoys today.

An inspiring message tops off a pep rally.

Football is a sport of thought.

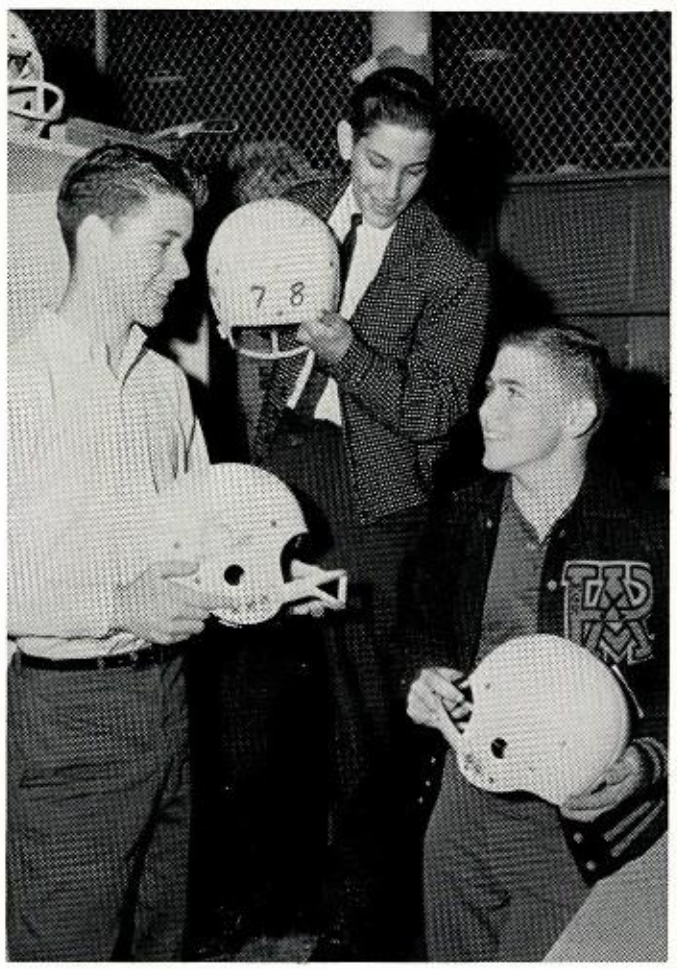
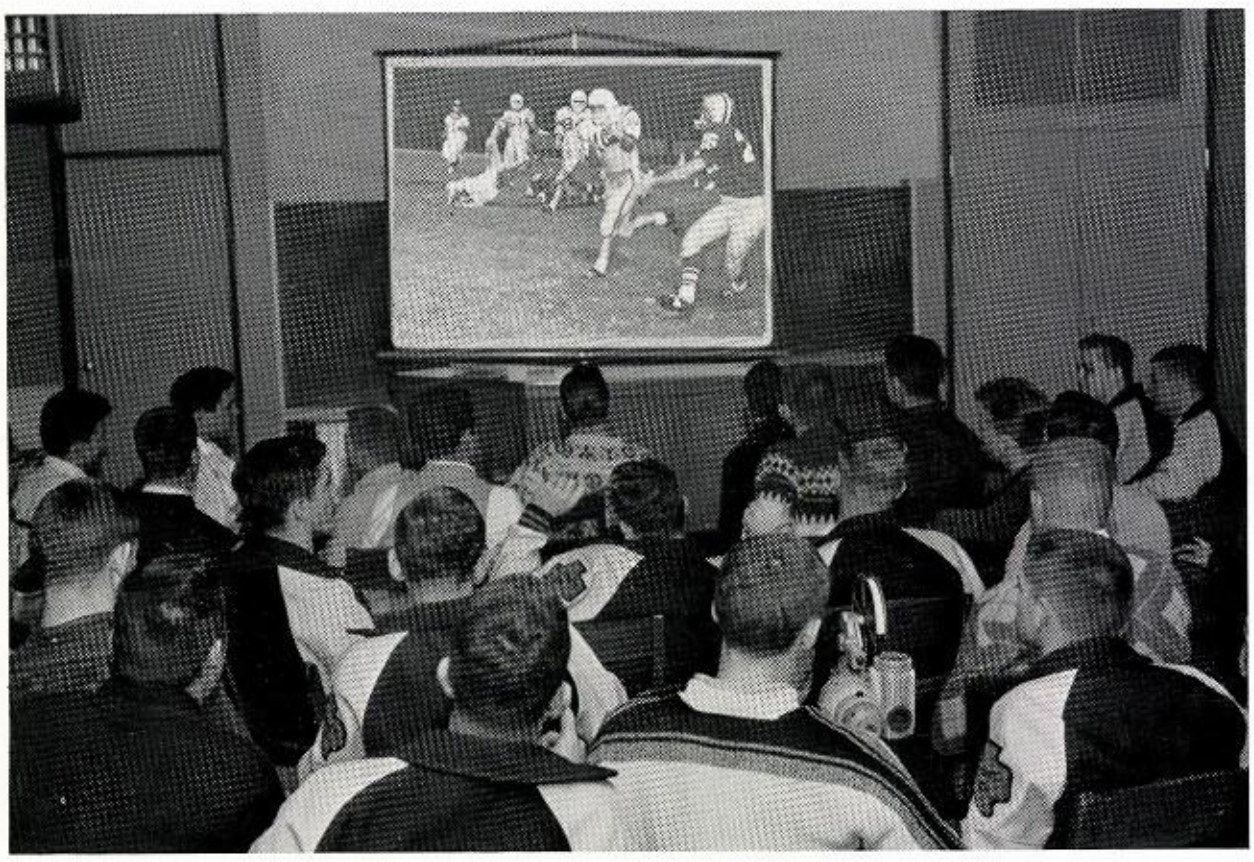
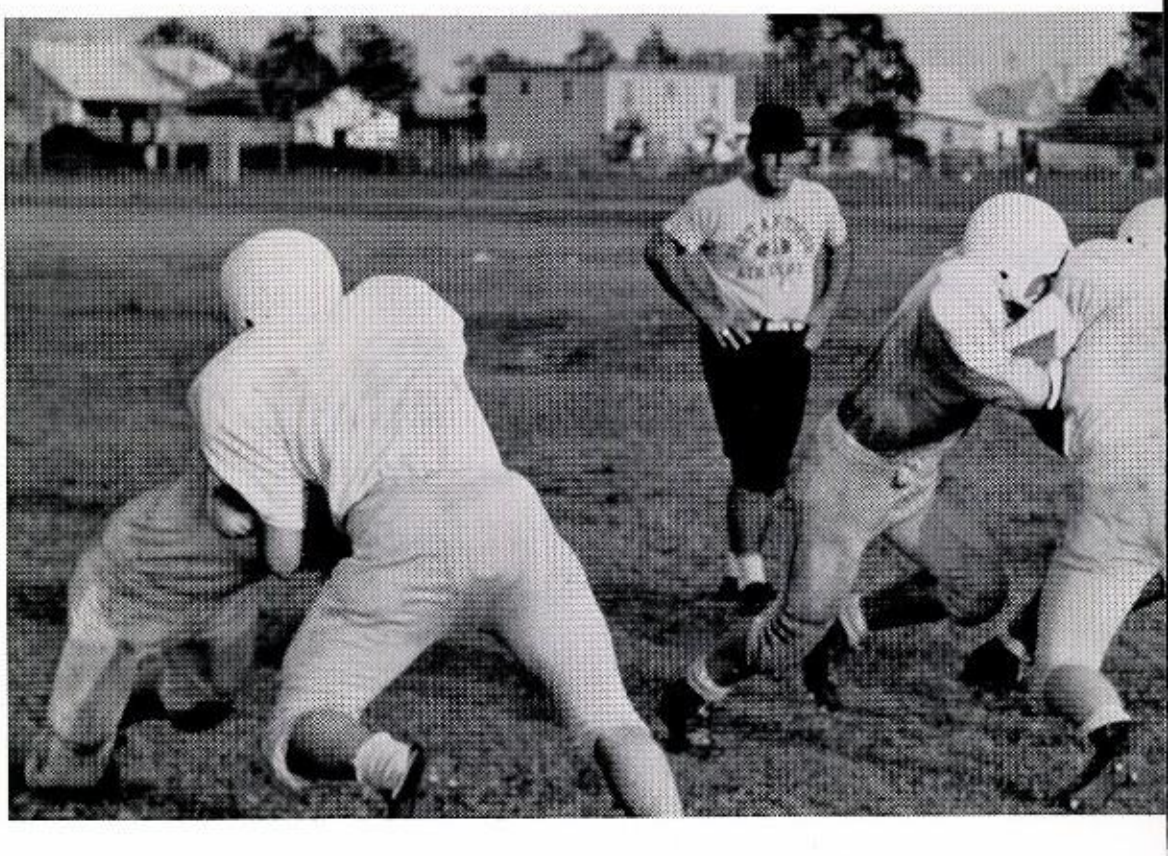
Managers Robert Orr, Barry Hutto, and Louis Petit did a fine job of keeping the athletic equipment in good shape.



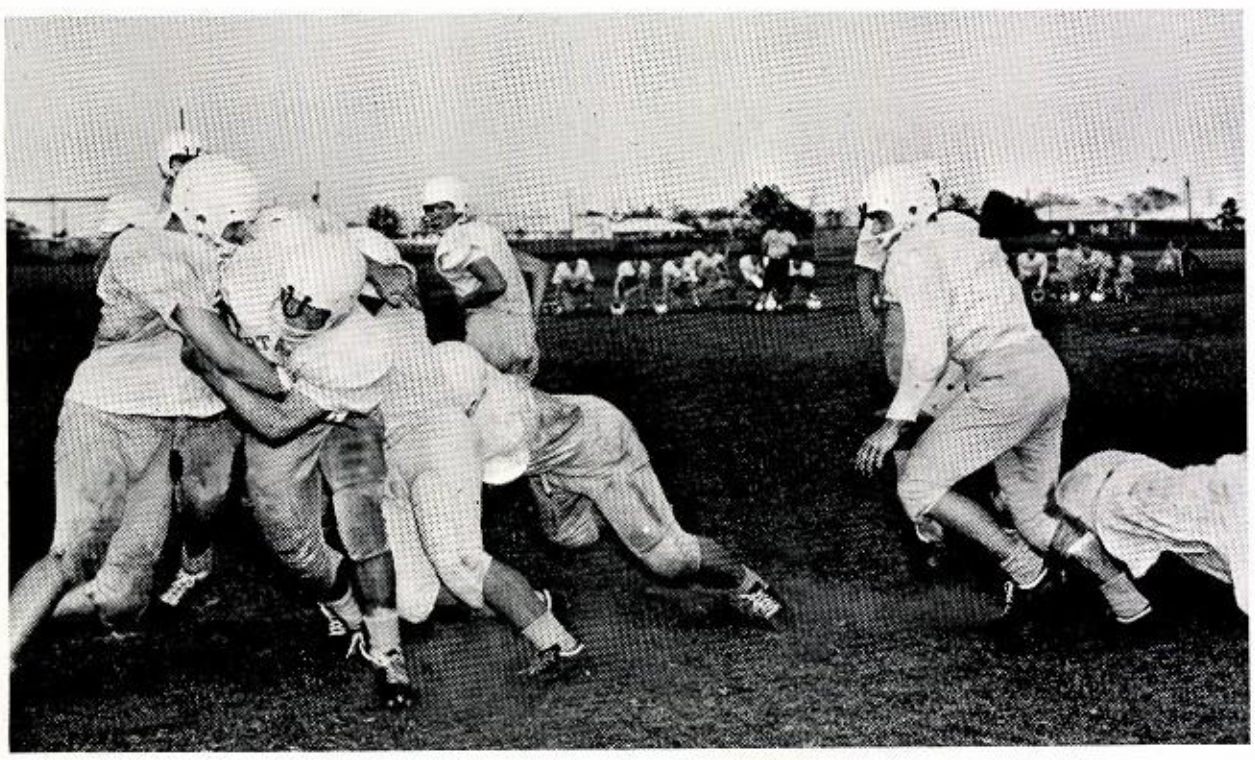
Jackets' Success Formula



VIEWING FILMS IS an integral part of pre-game preparation. It provides an opportunity to analyze the strong and weak points of the team and opposing teams.

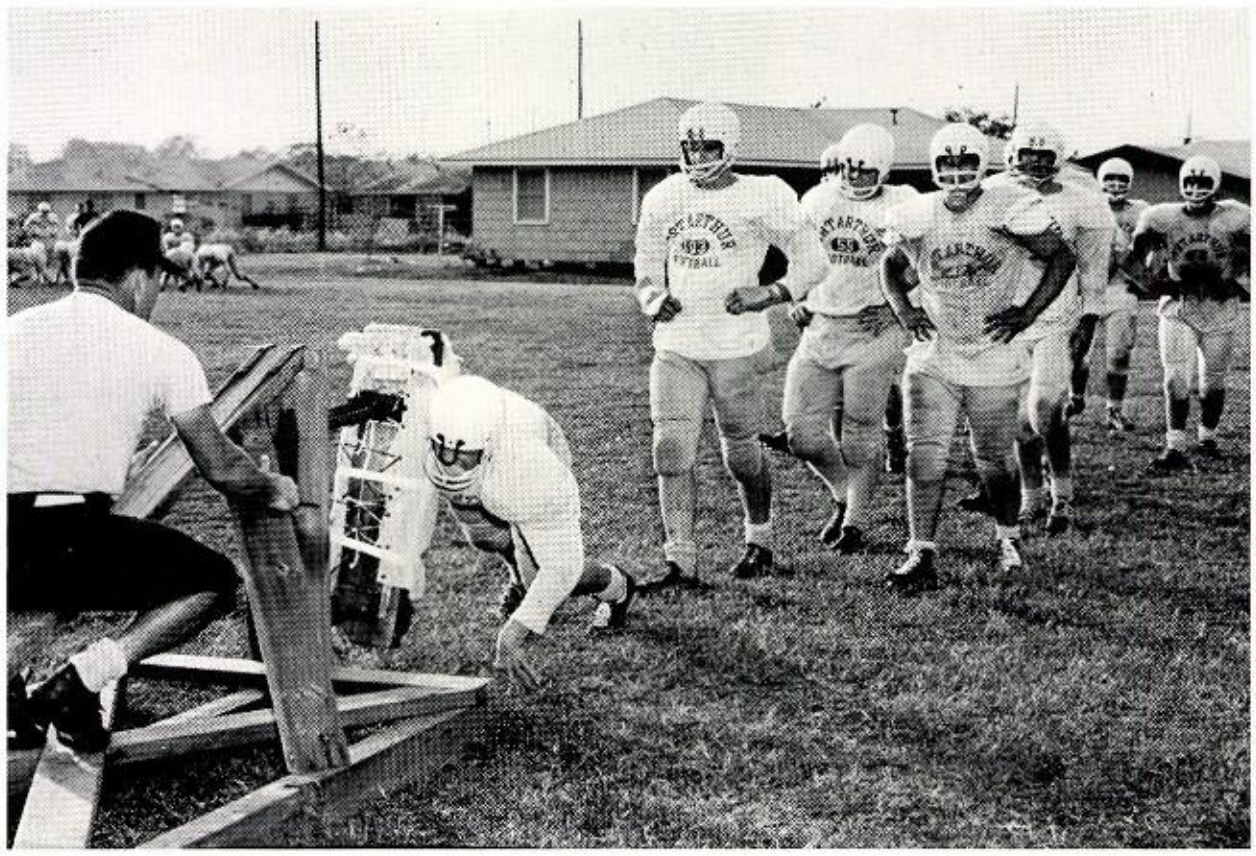


Blocking is perhaps the most fundamental phase of football. It can be perfected only through long hours of practice.



The football game is won or lost according to the outcome of many individual battles. A player has to accustom himself to the world of contact.

Desire + Preparation = Success



Strength and stamina are necessary to endure the pounding during practice and the game.

Preparation for a football season begins long before the opening game. Weightlifting is carried on throughout the year.

Jackets Cop Opener

PORT ARTHUR, SEPTEMBER 13, 1963

With more pre-season credentials than Scotland Yard, the 1963 Port Arthur Yellow Jackets made their debut by trouncing a tough Bellaire team 16-0. The Yellow Jackets were burdened with being ranked number two in the state and number four in the nation, but they convinced the near capacity crowd of 13,000 they were a team to be reckoned with.

The Jackets lit up the scoreboard for the first time in the third quarter when quarterback Gene Pace found end Tommy Hicks for a 20 yard touchdown pass. Tailback Walter Sorgee swept end for the gratis points. The second Jacket tally came in the fourth quarter when fullback Charles Wilson plunged over for the score.

In the final analysis it was the Jacket defense that beat Bellaire. Led by linebackers Norman Reeves, Tommy Daniels, and Chris Bray, the "Headhunters" constantly throttled the Cardinal scoring bids.

Arch Rival Baytown Falls to P. A.

PORT ARTHUR, SEPTEMBER 20, 1963

This game unveiled a new chapter in one of the oldest series of high school football contests in the history of Texas schoolboy football. Whoever is the victor of this contest each year usually has a fairly successful season for the simple reason that each team usually fields a proud and powerful football team.

In this year's contest, the Port Arthur Yellow Jackets outgained the tough Ganders 239 yards to 119. Charles Wilson scored the first Jacket touchdown on a one-yard plunge which capped a long Jacket drive. Neither team could manage a score until the Jackets' wingback, Richard Taft, circled left end for a seven-yard touchdown in the last six seconds of the game. The final score of the game was 12-0 in favor of the Jackets. The reliable Jacket defense, led by Norman Reeves, Chris Bray, and Terry Rozelle, once again proved to be a formidable barrier to the opposition.

Port Arthur had once again defeated their arch rival Baytown.

TAILBACK WALTER SORGEE eludes would-be Baytown tacklers and goes for a sizeable gain. Aiding Sorgee is guard Steve Wells, (66), and end Claude Pardue, (89).

Port Arthur Suffers First Loss of Year

PASADENA, SEPTEMBER 27, 1963

Riding on the crest of a two-game winning streak and the number one rating in the state, the Port Arthur Yellow Jackets were railroaded by a fired-up Pasadena team, 7-6.

The Jackets dominated the ground game while Pasadena took full charge of the air.

The lone Jacket score came on a 14-yard dash by Walter Sorgee. Charles Wilson was stopped short on the conversion attempt, and this proved to be the deciding factor in the game. Pasadena's tally came in the fourth quarter following a razzle-dazzle play that put them on the Jacket 26-yard line. From there quarterback Ricky Barret rolled out to his left and for a moment looked like he might be tackled for a loss, but he kept his feet and shot straight up the middle for the score. The Eagle defense then stymied all Jacket attempts for a second score.

P.A. Hopes Dimmed by Tigers

ORANGE, OCTOBER 5, 1963

The Yellow Jackets rolled into Orange confident of bouncing back from a 7-6 loss to Pasadena. They ran into an aroused Tiger eleven that refused to be patsies for any rebound attempt by the Yellow Jackets. The Jackets scored on their first possession, then bogged down for the rest of the game. The Jackets simply failed to match the fire of Orange. This loss greatly dimmed Jacket hopes for the future. It was evident at this point that a new spirit was necessary for the improvement needed to be champions.

The Jackets scores came on that old stand-by, the power sweep, perfectly executed by Walter Sorgee.

The running of junior backs Dwayne Catalina and Dale Bernauer was one bright spot in an otherwise discouraging game.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT, Pt. Arthur wingback Dale Bernauer manages to slip through this cordon of enclosing Orange Tigers for a 40-yard gain.

PORT ARTHUR, OCTOBER 12, 1963

The big Ray Texans invaded the green turf of Jacket Stadium following two straight losses by the Jackets to Pasadena and Orange. Corpus Christi sported one of the heaviest lines in the state of Texas, including a 315 pound center, Tiny Hudgens. Jacket desire, however, was not to be denied this night and Port Arthur continually punished the Texans. Yes, the Jackets had gotten back on the victory trail this fateful night with their 20-6 victory over Corpus Christi.

The first Jacket score came on a six-yard jaunt off guard by tailback Dwayne Catalina. Charles Wilson then kicked his first of two successful points from placement. Wilson scored the second Jacket touchdown of the second quarter when he churned into the end zone from the eight. The big fullback kicked his second extra point, and the Jackets led 14-6 at halftime. The Jackets' quarterback David Watts then connected with tailback Catalina on a pass which carried to the one yard line and from there Wilson went in for the final score.

PORT ARTHUR. OCTOBER 19, 1963

A rousing 20-7 victory over the powerful La Grange Gators set the stage for the Yellow Jackets' 1963 District 11-AAAA campaign.

The Jackets displayed a mighty ground game led by the brilliant running of fullback Charles Wilson, who scored twice from the one yard line and kicked both points after touchdowns, in their victory over La Grange. Another factor in the Jackets' victory was their stalwart defensive play featuring a 40-yard touchdown run with an intercepted pass by Gene Pace, a star on defense from his cornerback post.

This last pre-district game for 1963 left victory deeply imbedded in the mind of every Jacket player as Port Arthur prepared to begin a whole new season which, technically, the district games represented.

THE PERFECT STEAL! Eugene Pace (10) snatches the football out of the hands of a Gator receiver as Buddy Ball (84), Mike Trahan (60), and Tommy Daniels (32) look on in amazement.

Indians Fall

PORT NECHES-GROVES, OCTOBER 26, 1964

In a game which probably decided the District 11-AAAA championship, the Port Arthur Yellow Jackets overpowered the PNG Indians in the first half and then relied on a staunch defense to quell a second half "Injun" uprising to prevail 21-8. Both teams were fired up to the hilt, and the game turned into a ferocious hitting contest. Not only was this game a peak of Jacket effort, but the TJ student body displayed a spirit that has had no equal in the past seven years.

The Jacket scores, all in the first half, were quick and long. Walter Sorgee reversed field for 37 yards; Dwayne Catalina zipped for 45 and 26 yard scores. The Jacket line outcharged PNG time after time. The Jackets showed an undeniable desire for victory. The defense, led by the front four of Buddy Ball, Mike Trahan, Terry Rozzle, and Errol Guidry, played havoc with the frustrated Indian backs.

Homecoming Flavored by Win

PORT ARTHUR, NOVEMBER 2, 1963

The 1963 version of the Port Arthur Yellow Jackets obviously recalled vividly the 1962 team as they whitewashed the Greenies 26-0. As the seniors of last year's super-team, which was upset by South Park, watched from the sidelines; the Jackets completely dominated the battle.

The usually ground-hugging Yellow Jackets shocked the crowd of 12,000 when the first time they got the ball, quarterback David Watts unleashed a twenty-yard strike to end Buddy Ball that set up the Jackets on the 16 yard line. Fullback Charles Wilson made the first of his four touchdowns from that point. Wilson played perhaps his greatest game of the year as he romped for 129 yards in addition to his four tallies. Another Watts pass set up the second Jacket score as end Tommy Hicks pulled it in on the two yard line. Wilson put six more points on the scoreboard from there. Yes, it was a sweet victory for all.

Jackets Outmud French

BEAUMONT, NOVEMBER 9, 1963

It was a proud French team that went down in the mud this night. After shellacking Beaumont 30-0 the previous week, the Buffaloes were geared to the limit to stop the favored Jackets. However, a continuous deluge dumped 3½ inches of rain on the turf of Purple Stadium and the Yellow Jackets found the mud to their liking as they powered their way over the ambitious Buffs. Borrowing a chapter from Port Arthur "mud dogs" of the past, the Jackets dominated the game with their power sweeps and ferocious defensive play. This victory cinched at least a tie for the district championship for the Jackets.

The deft running of tailback Walter Sorgee highlighted the otherwise brutal defensive struggle. Sorgee scored twice from ten yards out and returned a punt 80 yards only to have it wiped out by an official's red flag. Charles Wilson scored the other Jacket tally and booted two extra points.

Jackets Wrap Up District

PORT ARTHUR, NOVEMBER 15, 1963

With the district crown in the sights of every Yellow Jacket player, they romped and stomped over hapless Beaumont 49-6. The Jacket ground game proved too much for the Royal Purples as they rolled up 479 offensive yards. The Purples were limited to 206 total offensive yards, even though the Jackets often played second and third string players. Quarterback David Watts threw a 31-yard touchdown strike to end Claude Pardue for the first Jacket touchdown. The conversion attempt was wide. After receiving the ball, the Purples couldn't move it and punted to the Jacket 35-yard line. On the first play of the series Walter Sorgee, aided by great blocking of the Jacket line, raced 65 yards to a second Jacket touchdown. The Jackets drove 99 yards for their next score, with Jesse DeLee capping the drive by catching a 7-yard touchdown pass.

The Jackets' scoring was increased by the running of junior wingback Dale Bernauer, who scored touchdowns on jaunts of 87 and 20 yards. Other scores for the Jackets came on a one-yard plunge by Dwayne Catalina and a one-yard run by Edgar Eaton.

This was the Jackets' greatest offensive show of the season and a great way to close the district race.

HALFBACK DWAYNE CATALINA seems to lose the ball as he races in from seven yards out to score. Clearing the way for him are Mike Hilliard (15), Pinky Chaddrick (65), and Dale Berneur (24).

Season Finale–A Heartbreaker

PORT ARTHUR, NOVEMBER 29, 1963

The Port Arthur Yellow Jackets, handed the role of underdog in the bi-district clash between district champions of 11-AAAA and 12-AAAA, came away from a 22-21 loss both proud and shellshocked. The Jackets blocked and tackled as they never have before, showing the form it takes to go all the way to state. They showed an unprecedented dedication to winning, pushing the larger Eagles around at will. The best illustration of the lucklessness plaguing the Jackets is the manner in which Pasadena scored: an 85 yard punt return, a blocked punt in the end zone on a missed high snap from center, and a last-minute touchdown which was later found to be illegal. Of course the score is what counts and that is the place the Eagles prevailed.

The Jacket ground game was magnificent, Walter Sorgee, running with speed and power, rolled up 137 twisting yards. Charles Wilson scored all three touchdowns and provided a constant threat to the middle of the Eagle line.

This game is of the type that stirs visions of what might have been.

STRIKE! The Eagles are bowled over as halfback Walter Sorgee follows his teammates' blocking for a long gain. Doing an outstanding job of blocking are Charles Wilson (33), David Watts (12), Mike Trahan (60), and Steve Wells (66).

The 1963 football season found the Yellow Jackets starting slow and finishing with a rush. Before the season even began, the Jackets were put under pressure by high state and national rankings. The Jackets slugged past their first two foes, Bellaire and Baytown, in a methodical fashion fluctuating between brilliance and mediocrity. Pasadena and Orange came from behind to take one-point victories on successive Fridays, and the Jackets faced the bleak possibility of losing two more games to powerful teams before district rolled around. They had a challenge to face, and face it they did as Ray and La Grange fell before a new team spirit. Each man on the field displayed a determination to erase any doubts as to the quality of the team.

The Jackets, with power and finesse, ripped through a four-game district schedule to take the first 11-AAAA title in three years for Port Arthur. They found themselves underdogs to a familiar Pasadena team in bi-district; the Eagles hit the turf at Jacket Stadium with a touted offense and a tough defense. The Jackets played as they never have before; they completely dominated the game until the clock showed eight minutes left in the last quarter. Lady Luck looked the other way and stunned fans stared at the scoreboard's final 22-21 margin for Pasadena. The Jackets had lost the game but won a place in every TJ-ites heart for the courage they displayed. Not many teams can say they came within a thin three points of being undefeated for a season.

"A TORCH PARADE in the rain is about as effective as a good-night kiss from a doorknob," came a shout. "Who cares, if the torches don't?" came the reply, as the torches kept burning brightly and spirit heightened for the Pasadena bi-district game. Little did the cheerleaders realize that on the following night the football season would end tragically.

A hot summer sun had the cheerleaders sweating over new routines that would later pay off in fall game spectaculars.

Beginning with the first pep rally the cheerleaders nurtured the spirit of the students, helping it grow into a driving force pounding the players to go "all the way!" The students had the spirit; the players had the ability, but fate had our number.

The cheerleaders displayed their industry in other ways too. They covered the campus and school with signs and were always ready and willing to work on any school project.

Cold winter set in and with it came Basketball season. During this time the cheerleaders set a precedent by attending all games in uniform.

Needless to say, seeing the industrious six getting behind the teams gave the 1964 students a big boost.

The cheerleaders, headed by Lance Lyday, are sponsored by Miss Nancy McClain.

LET IT RAIN! We don't care. We're going "all the way."

They Stood Out

Heralds and service form a gigantic partnership to make school life pleasant and sometimes even exciting. Two members from each Junior and three from each Senior homeroom comprise the membership. Despite their size, Heralds find it easy to put plans into action.

Spirit Week represented one of their most determined efforts. Maroon and gold streamers for cars, splashy signs for the caravan of buses, and heart warming pep sessions marked this week when the motto was "Plunder Pasadena." Heralds saw that signs were displayed on the field for each game. That gave Big Buzz his raucous horn, painted it, and saw that Buzz cheered lustily for each touchdown made by the Jackets.

The longest football poster in the world, measuring a whopping 120 yards, was prepared by Heralds as they neatly painted their legend in one and one-half gallons of paint. The Red Hussars paraded the sign on the field at half-time.

Merry Christmas was made even happier when this group assumed the job of decorating the Community Home for the occasion.

The Heralds have laid plans to sponsor a homecoming for the 1964 class a decade from now, and they suggested that the group should try to become affiliated with the National Key Club.

HERALDS TAKE TIME out to pat themselves on the back and re after a year of many accomplishments.

Buzz Travels With the TEXANS

Mascot Needs Special Grooming

WANTED: A MASCOT and everal senior boys to serve as aretakers and escorts.

A plan to fulfill this desire riginated in the mind of a stuent body president a few years go. Big Buzz has served as a ymbol of Thomas Jefferson's athetic ability and its spirit, but the exans are responsible for Buzz's ibrant appearance. This year the exans had Buzz repainted and ad his wings repaired.

Scrunched in the back of a pickp truck, the Texans anchored and protected Big Buzz as they rode to out-of-town games during the '63-'64 season. They also helped transport and erect signs on the field or gym of the opposition to boost our team's spirit.

The home games were easier on the Texans. After Buzz was set up, they presented him to the student body at the pep rallies on Friday afternoons. On Friday nights, the football players ran through Buzz's newly made arch, and Buzz was carried on to the field, much to the delight of the spirited spectators, and the chagrin of the opposition.

With every touchdown came a blasting buzz from the buzzer that the Texans procured, put in working order, and attached to Big Buzz.

Buzz not only went to all the games, but he was also a popular figure at the bonfire and at the torchlight parade.

Miss Nancy McClain is the sponsor of the Texans.

ILLNESS ABREVIATES MARCHING SEASON FOR BADGETT

A well-organized band found it possible to perform admirably during the latter part of the football season because their director, Mr. John L. Badgett, had planned maneuvers ahead of time. When he became ill in November, Drum Major Peggy Gralino took over the direction of the marching, and Student Director Gene Badgett took up the baton to direct the playing. They had the assistance of substitute teacher Mrs. Florence Meeker during the weeks when Mr. Badgett was absent.

Fully recovered after the Christmas holidays, Mr. Badgett once more assumed control of the Maroon and Gold Band and made beautiful music for the annual concert.

Dreams Will Never Die

The Red Hussar Drum and Bugle Corps is an organization which encourages good character among its members by stressing school loyalty, discipline, and interest in its purpose. The Corps spent two months training in the summer and sixth period gym class during the school year for participation in half-time activities at football games, parades, and other public performances.

Red and White Day in late August presented the corps to an audience in Jacket Stadium. Throughout football season they entertained the spectators with intricate displays of precision drills and novelty formations. Among their outstanding maneuvers were the spelling of "BUZZ" to salute the school mascot, the pinwheels formed while playing "Swinging Safari," the feature twirling, the presentation of two popular songs, "If I Had a Hammer" and "Bo Diddly," and the ten minute "Nato Waltz" and corresponding drill.

The Hussars also provided spirit at the pep rallies, the bonfire, the torchlight parade, and the Cav-OILcade and Christmas parades.

Among the Corps' social functions were a swimming party at the end of summer practice, the gala Hussar Ball at Christmas, the formal installation of new members and officers, the Senior luncheon, and a Play Day for all old and new Hussars on May 29.

The Corps is sponsored by Mrs. June Chambless.

Acclaim and applause, such as the standing ovation given the A Cappella Choir when they sang in Houston at the National School Board convention, have marked the appearance of these choristers . . . Members pass tests on voice quality, sight reading, and carrying a voice part solo. They represent the cream of the vocal crop. Fourteen members were named to the All-Region Choir and two sang in the All-State Choir.

Appearances in the auditorium assembly programs, singing for numerous civic events, and working up Christmas and Spring Concerts are highlights in the annual program.

Presenting "Oklahoma!" was a major event of the year.

Social occasions enliven rehearsal sessions. A Get Acquainted party initiated the year. A banquet at which awards and letters were presented took place at mid-year, and a farewell coke party rounded out the year.

Choir Enjoys Successful Year

MIXED CHOIR OFFICERS are Jim Miller, vice-president; Roy Godkin, president; Patsy Joranstad, librarian; and Fran Stagg, secretary-treasurer. Not pictured is Suzie Thornton, librarian.

The Mixed Choir, the Girls' Glee Club, Boys' Chor and A Cappella Choir join to form one big group main performances. The entire group went to Int scholastic League contest and placed first division sight reading and second division in concert.

The Mixed Choir, composed of approximately six six members went to the contest and competed as separate unit as well. They joined the Girls' Glee Cl in Christmas caroling.

Girls' Glee Club, composed of forty-five, rehearse class time and join other groups at performances.

The Boys' Chorus has grown from fifteen membe in 1959 to include forty boys who do not meet at cl time. They meet twice a week in the early mornir

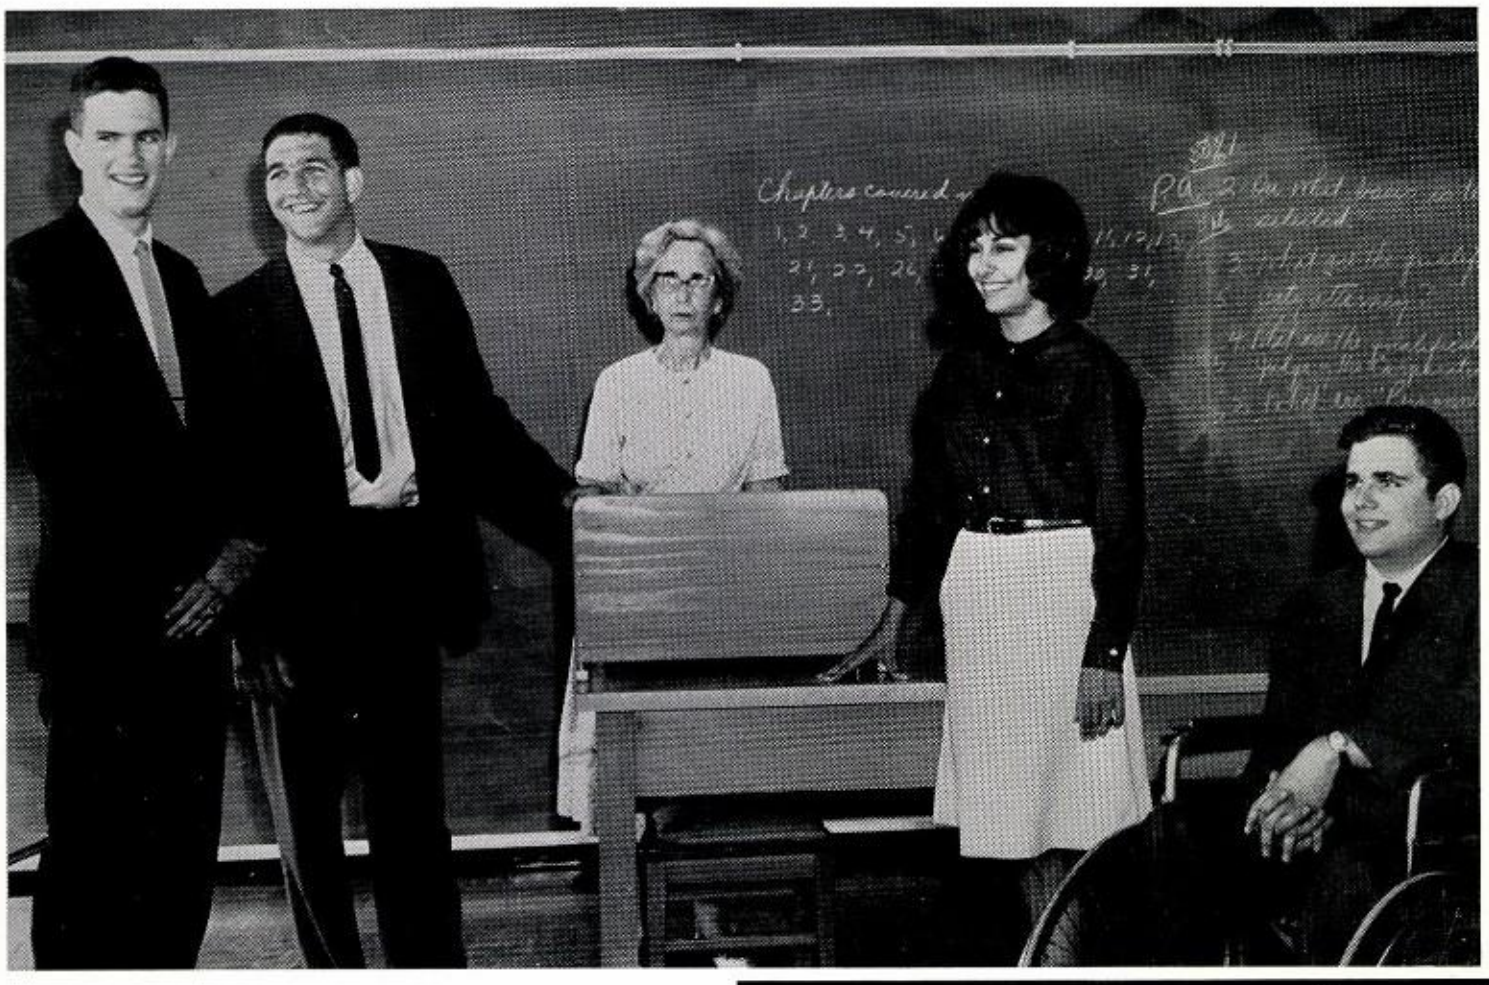
National High School Honor Society



Officers of the local chapter of NHS during the year included Keith Moore, president; Phillip Fleckman, vice-president; Miss Aliece Anderson, sponsor; Peggy Gralino, secretary; Forrest Hopkins, parliamentarian.

Even the best of plans can go wrong at initiation, and Shelia Swicegood seems convinced that Miss Anderson should take all precautions against surprises. Needless to say, however, the initiation came off without a flaw.

Members of the National Honor Society represent the elite in leadership, scholarship, service and character. Selected by their teachers for the foregoing qualities, 107 became NHS members shortly before the close of school.

A major service project was obtaining 100 college catalogs and making library cards for the collection so that they might be checked out by inquiring seniors. The library of catalogs was placed in the educational guidance office. NHS membership is a status symbol highly prized by all academically ambitious scholars.

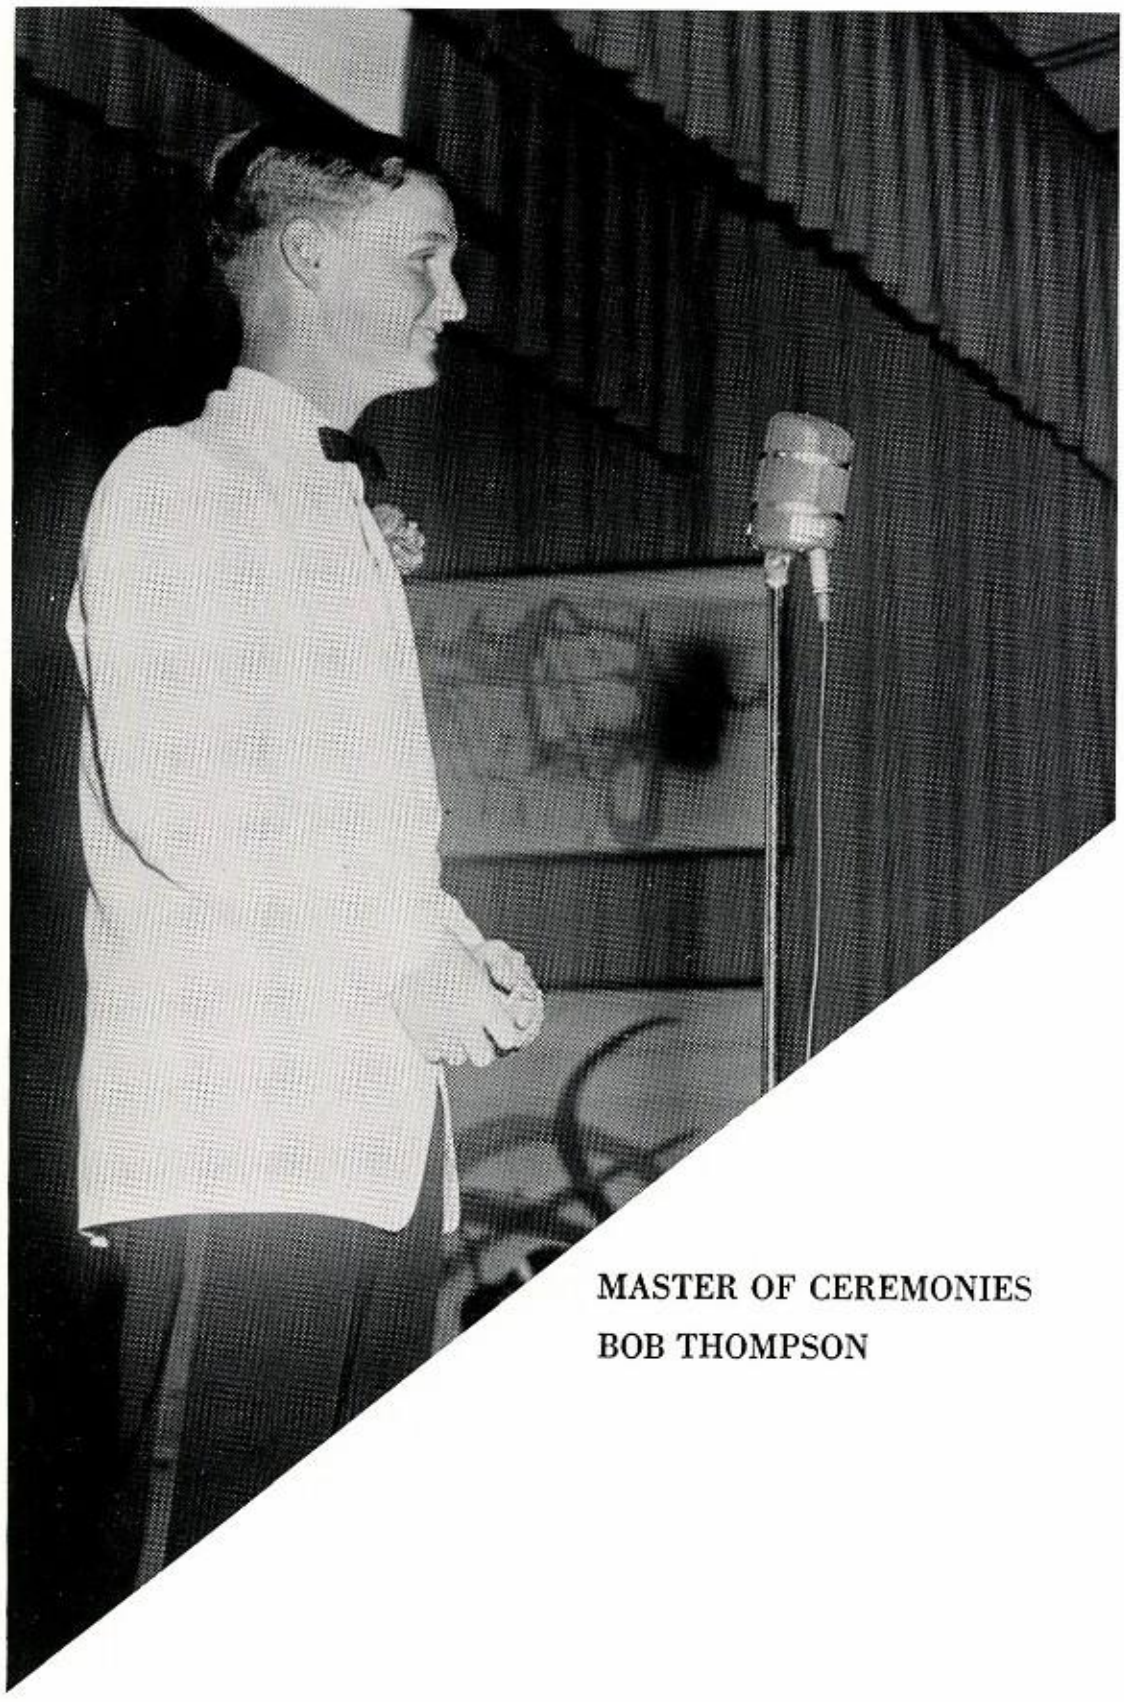
This year's Senior Ball with its modernistic decorations and unique waltz indeed reflected the "Mood of '64." The presentation of the royal court followed by a program of entertainment was only the start of a magic night for seniors and their dates.



MASTER OF CEREMONIES

f 1964

The Senior Waltz this year was modern, as well as traditional: each couple performed in a "spotlight" dance, and then all joined in the graceful waltz to "Fascination."

After the ball itself, Seniors continued to a variety of after-prom parties, breakfasts, and outings the following day. This was Senior Ball night—the "Mood of '64."

JUDY MILLER, NANCY Richard, and Carol Skaff work on the unique decorations for the ball. Mr. Roger Russell was in charge of decorations for this event, as well as for the construction of numerous stage sets.

The Senior Ball is the most important social event of the "graduates" school social life. The court of the Senior Class and its representatives from Sophomore and Junior Classes are elected by their classmates. They represent the most popular, the handsomest, and the most beautiful in school.

THE COURT WAITS eagerly and anxiously for the march to begin.

CLUBS

Guidance Comes From These

THE SPONSORS THAT have always given their understanding and ever-needed guidance to the members of FTA are Miss Mary Eunice Vickers, Mrs. Jo Ann Carver, Miss Eleanor Wall, Mrs. Margaret Barry, and Mrs. Nora Gregory.

Future Teachers of America Club helps students, boys and girls, who are interested in teaching as a career. It familiarizes them with the profession as well as with the responsibilities. The club is divided into three groups: The Thomas Jefferson Club, G. M. Sims Club, and David Miller Club. These smaller clubs work together as one organization in their activities and projects. The members attended district convention in Bellaire and state convention in Austin.

COMPARING NOTES FOR the next meeting are the overall officers of FTA: Marcely Gooch, treasurer; Patsy Smith, parliamentarian; Mary Alice Teran, historian; Gail Saunder president; Mary Doering, first vice-president; and Carolyn Estes, second vice-president.

Mr. Joe Price receives many congratulations for being awarded Teacher of the Year.

Awards Are Given

AWARDS NIGHT FOR Future Teachers brings joy to many girls who have striven all year for this honor.

RECEIVING THE AWARD for Outstanding FTA members are Sandra Castro, Mary Alice Terran and Tana Townsend. Mr. Clyde Gott presented the award. Mr. Joe Price received the Teacher of the year award.

David Miller Club Plans Future

MEMBERS of Future Teachers: SEATED: Linda Stevenson, Andrea Commander, Nancy O'Neal, Marilyn Weeks, and Sylvia Daniels. SECOND ROW: Karen Miller, Mary Jane Hill, Mary Ann Koerth, Merle Coward, Dana Morgan, Sara Hawes, Lois Brown, and Ann Boutte. THIRD ROW: Carolyn Sheppard, Linda Cartwright, Darlene Downs, Elaine Charrier, Sandra Coody, Nancy Bushnell, and Sue Capps.

DAVID MILLER FTA OFFICERS INCLUDE Rita Leibling, first vice-president; Maurgurette Castro, president; Sue Haskell, second vice-president. STANDING: Dinah Chism, devotional leader; Joan Traube, third vice-president; Phoebe Malmgren, treasurer; and Marian Lair, secretary.

The members of Future Lawyers discussed several court cases and visited court rooms while court was in session. They were exposed to various techniques used by effective lawyers. Valuable information is also available to all members through their participation in the club's program. Membership is open to all students who are interested in entering the law profession.

LEARNING TO MAKE a valid thesis statement will be useful to these future solons: Barbara Melancon, treasurer; Nancy Bailey, secretary; Bob Thompson, president; and Joyce Welch, vice-president.

Students Plan Ahead

Bob Thompson gives a preview of the club's plans for the future. The members of Future Lawyers are Joyce Welch, William Castille, Brenda Cappadona, Mike Spell, Carrie Bizot, Mr. Rex Copeland, sponsor, Kay Marshall, Ronald Spell, Nancy Bailey, and Bob Thompson.

Training Provided for Medical Clan

THE FUTURE DOCTORS' CLUB aids students interested in medicine and familiarizes them with the medical profession. It provides an introduction to the long, rough schedule that is required of all students who wish to enter the field of medicine. The club helps to find the answers to pertinent questions that arise during the year. This year the members took two field trips. They visited the John Sealy Hospital in Galveston and the Baylor Medical Center in Houston.

LISTENING ATTENTIVELY TO Mr. Darrell Ardoin are Mrs. Sandra Shaw and Mr. Alfred Hebert, sponsors of the Future Doctors of America.

DOT—DASH—DOT—DASH! Does a pulse beat usually come through in Morse Code? Seeking an answer are these officers of Future Doctors: Demetrius Loukas, president; Rita Leibling, treasurer; Mike Kubitz, vice-president; and Louis Anselmo, secretary.

MRS. SHAW HOLDS the attention of the members as she reports on the latest medical development. Members of the Future Doctors—FRONT ROW: Roy Druitt, Glenn Willis, Danny DeVillier, Larry Fergusson, John Bigham, Paul Paris, and Fred Loeb. SECOND ROW: Jerry Hebert, Major Hightower, Elizabeth Foster, Karen Johnson, Shirley Zingleman, Rita Leibling, Jeff Kush, and Bill Long. THIRD ROW: Larry Vidrine, T. C. Roddy, Tommy Ryan, Sam Colletti, Dan Cliffe, and George Roddy.

Slide Rule Meets Early

Mrs. Laverna Keifer keeps Slide Rule Club members hoping to win added trophies.

SLIDE RULE CLUB attracts those who will pursue further math and science studies. It is chartered by Student Congress, but it has no officers. The group meets twice weekly to get special practice in the use of the mathematics needed to make use of this instrument.

This is a small segment of approximately 150 who came in regularly for early morning instruction. Competition is keen for representing TJ at Interscholastic meets.

iors helped decorate the Christmas tree for the enjoyment of all students. Included in group are Linda Broussard, Carolyn Prince, Becky Wriborg, Kay Marshall, Dianna omas, Linda Mathews, and Janice Cook.

Every homeroom sends a representative to Junior Red Cross meetings held each month. This group helps in national projects, such as making cartoon books for hospitals and collecting items for boxes to be given to needy children. Each one who contributes to the All School Chest Fund becomes a member of the national organization.

fficers and sponsors include Mr. Kenneth Parker, Mrs. Sandra Shaw, Adrienne Iverson, vice president; inda Broussard, president; Pat Gulley, program chairman.

Future Nurse

MEMBERS OF FUTURE NURSES—SEATED: Carolyn Bievenue, Tobin Weaver, Julia Crookshank, Connie Breaux, Dawn Carona, Delia Dunklin, Nancy Ellis, Susan Young, and Lynn Wallace. STANDING: Janice LeBouef, Janet Loar, Kay Malin, Brenda Richard, Annis McRee, Carol Parks, Lynn Fitzgerald, Marsha Woodall, Linda Courville, Linda Hayes, and Cynda Vincent.

The need for trained nurses and medical workers is growing each year. The Future Nurses Club introduces interested girls to the varied fields of nursing and helps them plan study courses which will prepare them to enter the medical school of their choice. The club provides actual experiences in patient contact, and more than 6,000 hours of volunteer service was given by the club. The club took the annual field trip, which lasted two days. During this trip, they visited the open house at Hotel Dieu in Beaumont, Rusk State Hospital in Rusk, the health museum in Dallas, and the Children's Hospital in Fort Worth.

Future Business Leader

HAVING BEEN SHOWN the new office equipment by experts, the officers of FBLA smile confidently. They are Pat Flanagan, president; Maurine Hooks, vice-president; Sue Chambless, secretary; Vickey Belz, treasurer; Regina Droddy, parliamentarian; and Carolyn Blankenship, historian.

HELPING INTERESTED STUDENTS to learn business tactics is the main function of the Future Business Leaders of America club. The club is sponsored by Mr. Rex Copeland, Mrs. Linda Bentley, Mrs. Mable Swanzy, and Mrs. Betty Cowan. The members have been very fortunate in having several leading local businessmen at their night meetings. They have also visited several local business firms.

TOO MUCH FEMININE advice can confuse even the best typist, concludes Mr. Rex Copeland, one of the quartet of FBLA sponsors. Others include Mrs. Linda Bentley, Mrs. Mable Swanzy, and Mrs. Betty Cowan.

DE Members Organiz

Approximately eighty students combine work and school with the aid of the Distributive Education program, and this common interest in earning and learning is the basis for membership in the Distributive Education Club. Meetings are held once a month in the evenings. Since the most important event of the year is the spring banquet, the club decided to use most of their space to show how they looked when they entertained their bosses at the Driftwood late in the spring.

C. J. BOURG AND JIM GRATZ give a quick demonstration of the type of work they often do.

Although the club is a rather loosely knit organization as far as procedures go, these officers helped generate enthusiasm for the general program. They include the following: Skippy Chatelain, president; Marshall Hensley, vice-president; Bertha Brown, secretary; Nancy Bailey, corresponding secretary; Belinda Cappadonna, treasurer. Mrs. Dell Hille, program co-ordinator, also sponsors the club.

ourteenth Annual Banquet

Marshal Hensley was voted the outstanding boy in the DE program. Beverly Blanchard (center) received the award for the girls, and Beverly Crowder (right), was honored as DE sweetheart at the banquet. Leland Gaspard served as master of ceremonies.

Other students who appeared on the program were Ronald Nickleson, Bobby Atchley, George Cappell, and Martha Upton. Others were Wayne Rodgers, Danny Styles, Mary Jordan, Ray Canada, Maurice LeBlanc, Rudy Vaughn, Margaret Huebel, Beverly Blanchard, Sandy Johnson, Susie Johnson, and James Bell.

Outstanding Members

This was the fourteenth DE banquet when student workers put on their best finery to become hosts and hostesses to their bosses and supervisors.

THE CAMERA, A complica device, is the center of discussi at a typical Camera Club me ing. The members learn ma valuable camera techniques. Th are Jeanette Bergeron, Caro Barnette, Bill Powell, Bill Hebin Bart Bragg, Don Killebrew, I Lumpkin, Dan Smith, Bobby T riot, and Joe Martinez.

ONE WAY TO capture memorable moments is through pictures. The sponsor of the Camera Club, Mr. Roger Russell, helps students interested in photography to learn more about parts of the camera, and the production and development of pictures. The members enjoy many individual projects throughout the year.

Films Boost Learning

EVERY YEAR ONE'S knowledge expands, and films contribute greatly to this process. The members of the Projectors Club make this possible. It is a service organization and is composed of boys who wish to devote their regular study hall time to helping teachers in need of someone to project various films. The librarian, Mrs. Marcelle Pitman, trains members to operate the projectors and helps them coordinate the needs of the teachers and the services offered.

"YOU SEE, THIS gizmo is connected to that gadget," explains Mrs. Pitman to Jackie Gulley, secretary; Dickie White, president; and Norma Reeves, vice-president.

"Gift of Gab" Gathers Many Forensic Honors

The Forensic Society is a great help to students who plan frequent public speeches or the pursuit of the lawyer's profession. One must be active in Forensic events before he can be eligible for membership, which is determined by invitation. Events include debate, oratory, extemporaneous speaking, and dramatic interpretation. TJ was represented in five debate tournaments: Bellaire, Spring Branch, Lamar, Baylor, and the Tulane University Glendy-Burke Tournament. The club entered the district University Interscholastic League competition for one-act plays. In the Baylor debate tournament, Bob Thompson and Justin Campbell advanced to semi-finals in extemporaneous speaking, debate, and oratory. They were chosen fifth out of two hundred teams. In the Spring Branch tournament, three of TJ's students advanced to the semi-final position: Roxie Roll, Lynn Bond, and Bob Thompson. Bob also won a first place medal and trophy in the oratory division. Dora Scalco, Lynn Bond and Bob Thompson won first place trophies at the Lamar tournament. Dora also won a second place medal.

THE OFFICERS OF Forensic Society are Don Rozell, president; Theresa Marks, secretary; Prissy Jordan, parliamentarian; and Justin Campbell, vice-president.

Learning to Spea

AS LATIN AMERICAN AFFAIRS grow closer in relation to the United States, knowing how to speak Spanish pays off. This year the members of the Pan Am Club attended the Pan Am Student Forum Convention in Austin. This year's projects include writing to pen pals, exchanging tapes with Spanish-speaking countries, and translating books for students in Mexico. Students currently taking Spanish and former students are eligible for membership. The sponsors are Miss Margaret McGinty and Mr. Ernesto Guzman. The club is growing each year. It is no wonder because the members have access to various Spanish literature and become acquainted with the music, art, and traditions of the Spanish-speaking people.

MISS MARGARET McGINTY puts up the year's calendar while Mr. Ernesto Guzman reminds her of the important events concerning the Pan Am Club that will take place this year.

'Jugs' Draws Many New Member

Mr. Michael Johnson, sponsor, takes a look at the spring scene. This is his first year on the Jefferson faculty.

The Jefferson Union of German Students, hence JUGS, encourages those in the Foreign Language Department, especially those in German courses, to maintain an interest in the program. Although meetings were not scheduled on a regular basis during the past year, an occasional session with an apple strudel and some good talk in German added spice to class sessions.

MEMBERS OF THE GERMAN CLUB—FIRST ROW: Dora Scalco, Marguerite Castro, Charlotte Seewoster, Karen Johnson, Carolyn Hoffpauir, and Beverly Domaschk. Developers of Deeper Appreciation

ELPING TO DEVELOP a deeper appreciation r art, the Art Club, sponsored by Mr. Roger ussell, adds a touch of color to various school nctions. Throughout the year the showcase, stage s, and campaign signs are evidence of the mem- rs' abilities. This year the Art Club sponsored e TCU traveling exhibit, took a field trip to the useum of Fine Arts in Houston, and entered the bley's Regional Scholastic Art Magazine Exhibit, here eleven TJ students won awards. Work was so entered in the Port Arthur Art League Ex- bit and in an exhibit at Lamar Tech.

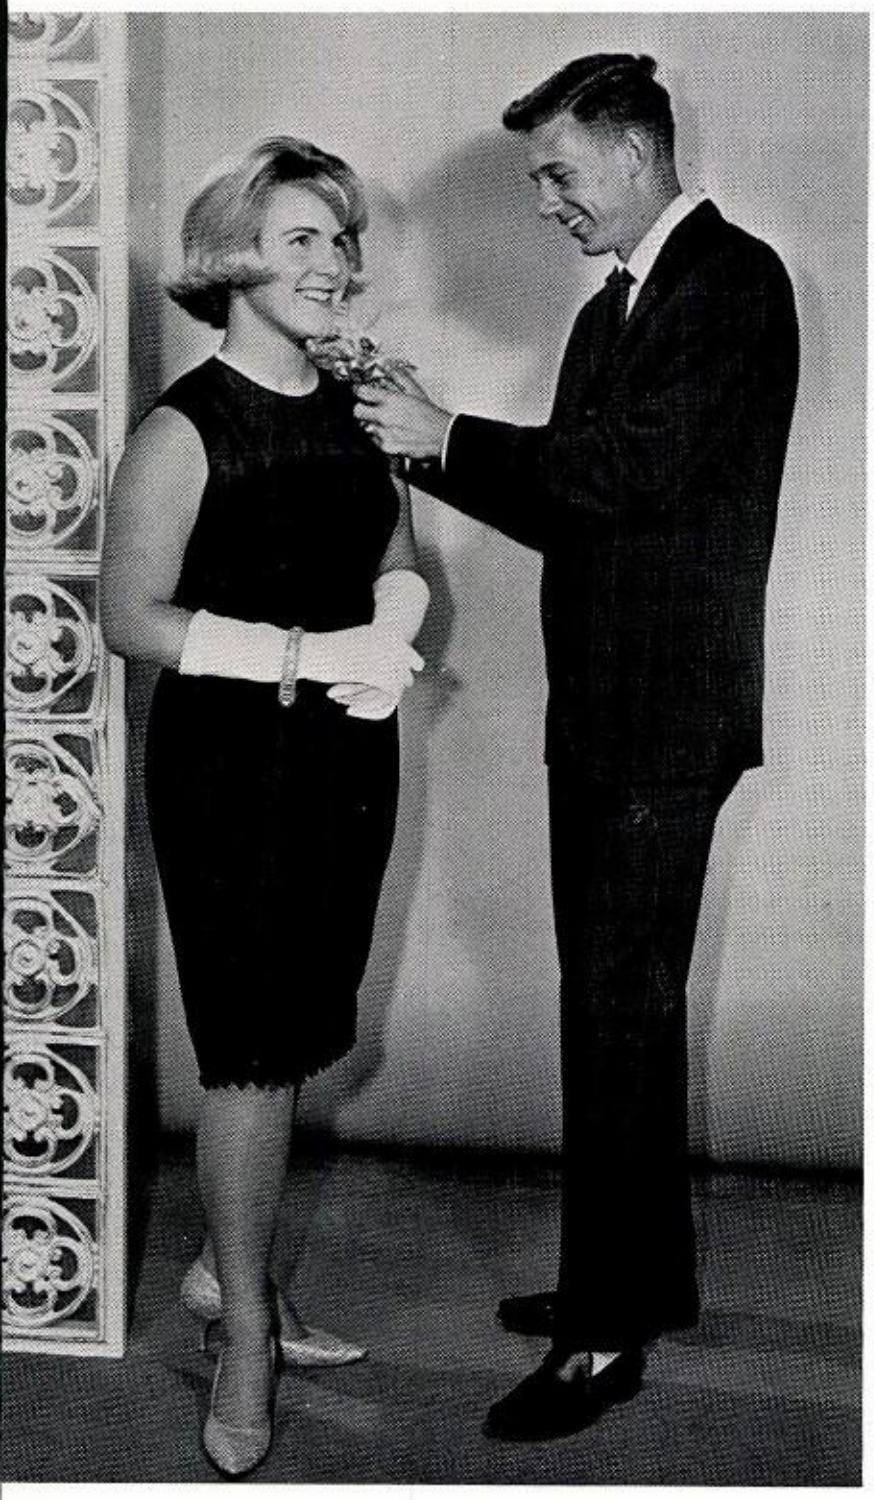
UNIOR PROM IN April
rought out best spring finery.



Hawaiian Theme

A Hawaiian theme was adopted for the decoration motifs of the Junior Prom.

Planned by the various committees from Cabinet, the event was such a success that Junior Class editor Dianne Borel forgot to tell the photographer which pictures to make for her section, and it was necessary to make studio pictures which are a reasonable facsimile of the original occasion.

Cabinet is made up of representatives from each homeroom. Their activities are under the direction of faculty sponsors Mrs. Martha Taylor, Mr. John Godwin, and Mr. Corley.

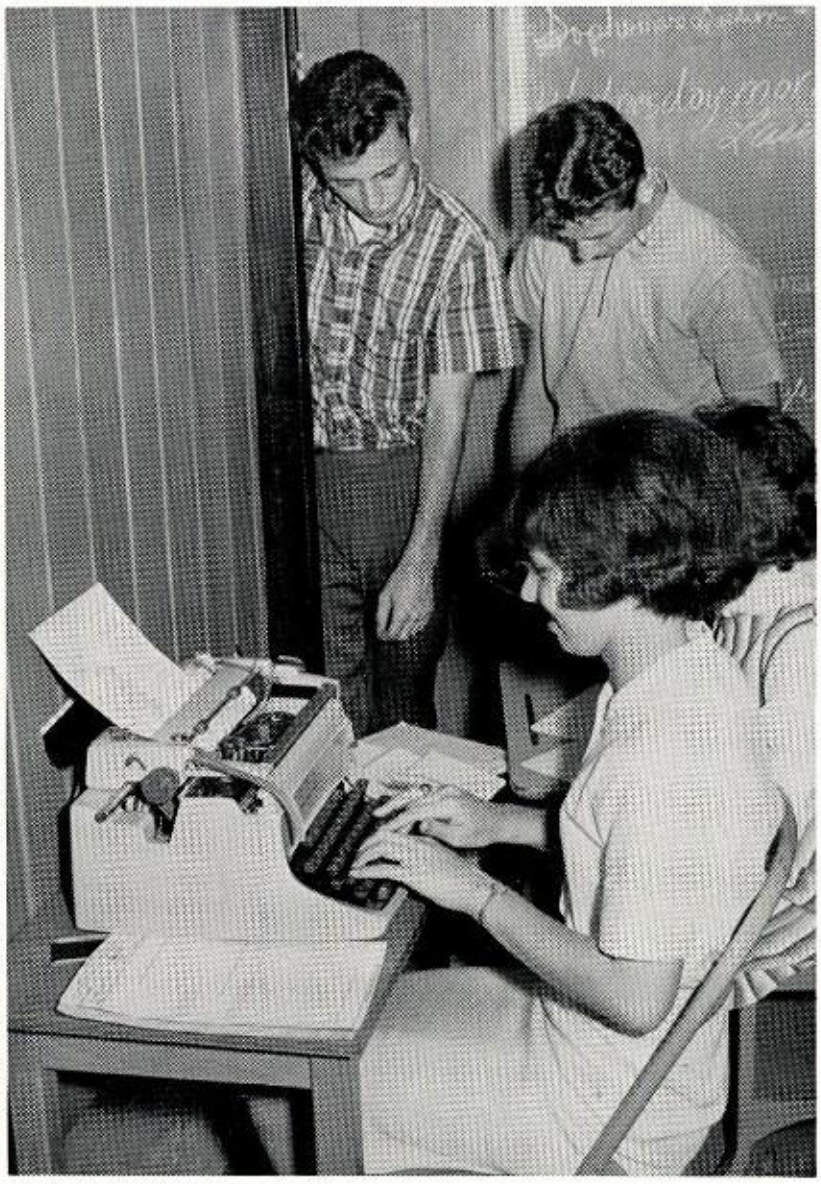
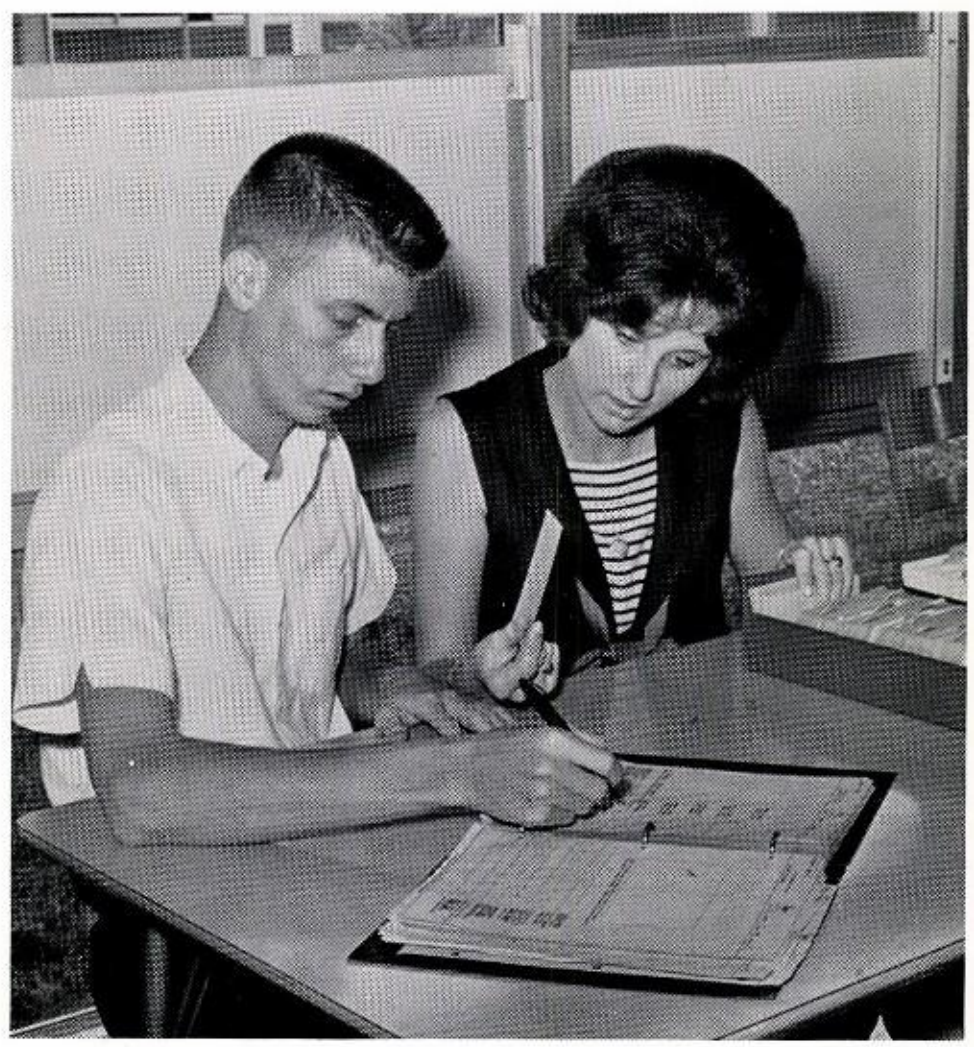
SCHOOL'S OUT





PUBLICATIONS

Famous Name Makes New

Learning to write news style requires a real feeling for words plus the sense of differentiating between facts and facts that will interest many people. It is this difference that makes news. A good reporter acquires a nose for news through practice.

Planning and reporting for the school paper usually brings satisfaction to those who do it, not from the public acclaim they receive, but from seeing others read the newspaper and noting expressions of satisfaction.

The news staff is usually a closer-knit group than others. It takes a sense of "togetherness" for the newspaper to succeed. When the paper comes out looking sharp and crisp, the stories sparkling with interest, and errors held to a minimum, the entire staff basks in the sunshine of approval. When some "blight" descends, however, the staff often moves closer together in order to shoulder the blame.

Where else can one learn to write and enjoy companionship as on the newspaper?

MARIA RUTT, EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

EDITOR RUTT AND CHARLES BARNETT turn the tables to interview newscaster Frank McGee, who was principal Chamber of Commerce banquet speaker.

s Pilot Reporters Acquire Skill

GOOD FILING SYSTEM often aids in getting material for a news story. Nancy Tatum, Jeannette Broussard, and hn Canada consult back issues of THE PILOT for information.

r. W. G. Jones and Mr. Gene Jackson see that THE PILOT is the st printed paper in the state.

Associate editor Linda Beettle was chosen PILOT sweetheart. Dianne Borel was elected YELLOW JACKET sweetheart.

s a Result of Combined Efforts

HELMA BEALL and SANDY RADFORD CHECK a copy of e paper to complete string ooks. Thelma served as business anager and Sandy often edited age Two.

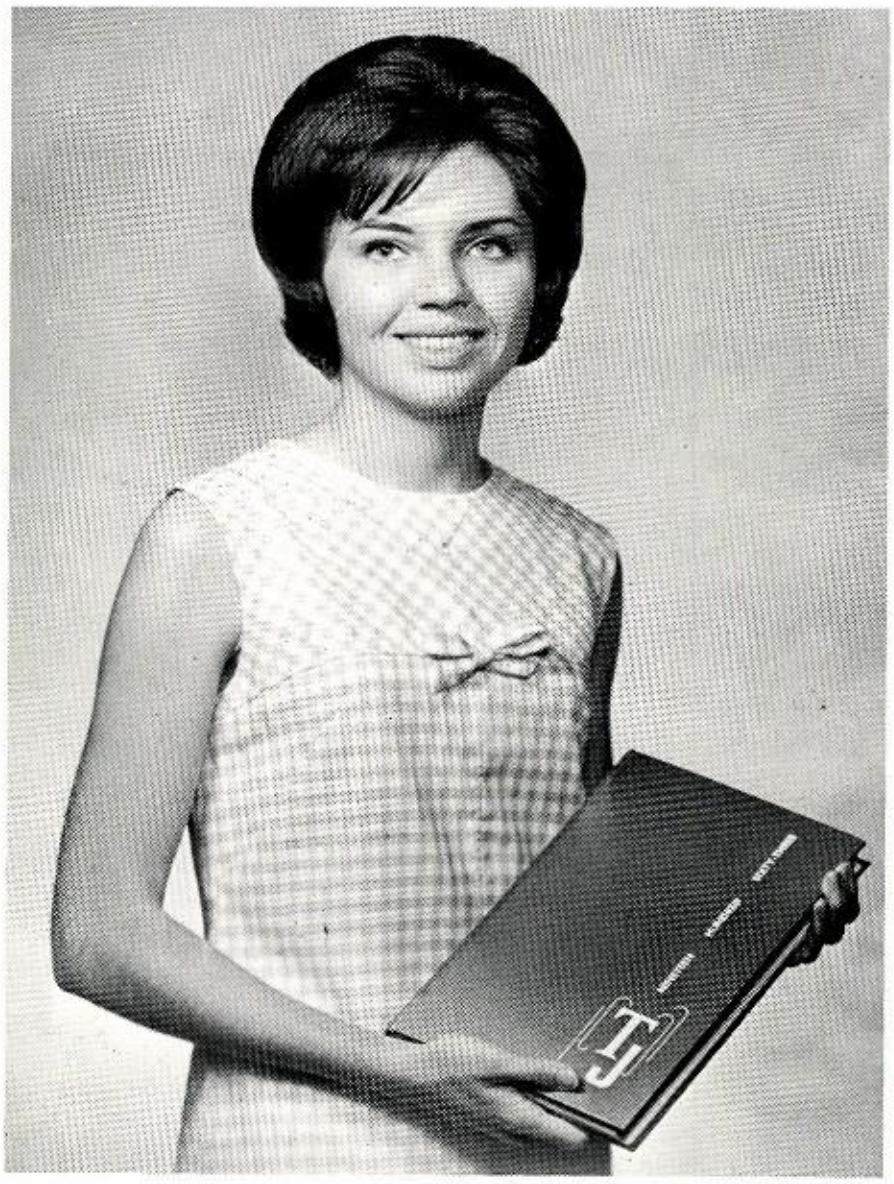
ABOVE RIGHT) Susan Arring- n became one of the most versa- le reporters of the year, writing erything from "Fillers" to edi- rials. Linda Hays was general ews assignment editor.

CECIL BAKER DEMONSTRATES mechanical problems of putting out a newspaper to Harold Barnett, Einah Eppler, and Joe Richker.

Journalism-Opport

Planning a history book more than 400 pages in length is the job of the annual staff. They usually come into the course inexperienced in matters of making layouts, writing copy, and planning pictures. They must learn fast how to combine all elements so that the yearbook will not only be complete but will compete on a professional basis for the interest of its readers.

Indeed, there is an opportunity for creativity!



Stephanie Fuselierk, editor-in-chief, served her apprenticeship as Junior Class editor. Because of her good work, she was promoted by Mrs. Mike Redman, sponsor, to the top job as editor.

Mrs. Mike Redman, yearbook sponsor, also supervises the school newspaper, THE PILOT.

Margaret Hooks, business manager, checks on finances. Mr. P. T. Reynolds is advertising sponsor, and Ann Clair Cotham has not only edited the advertising section, but she sold most of the ads.

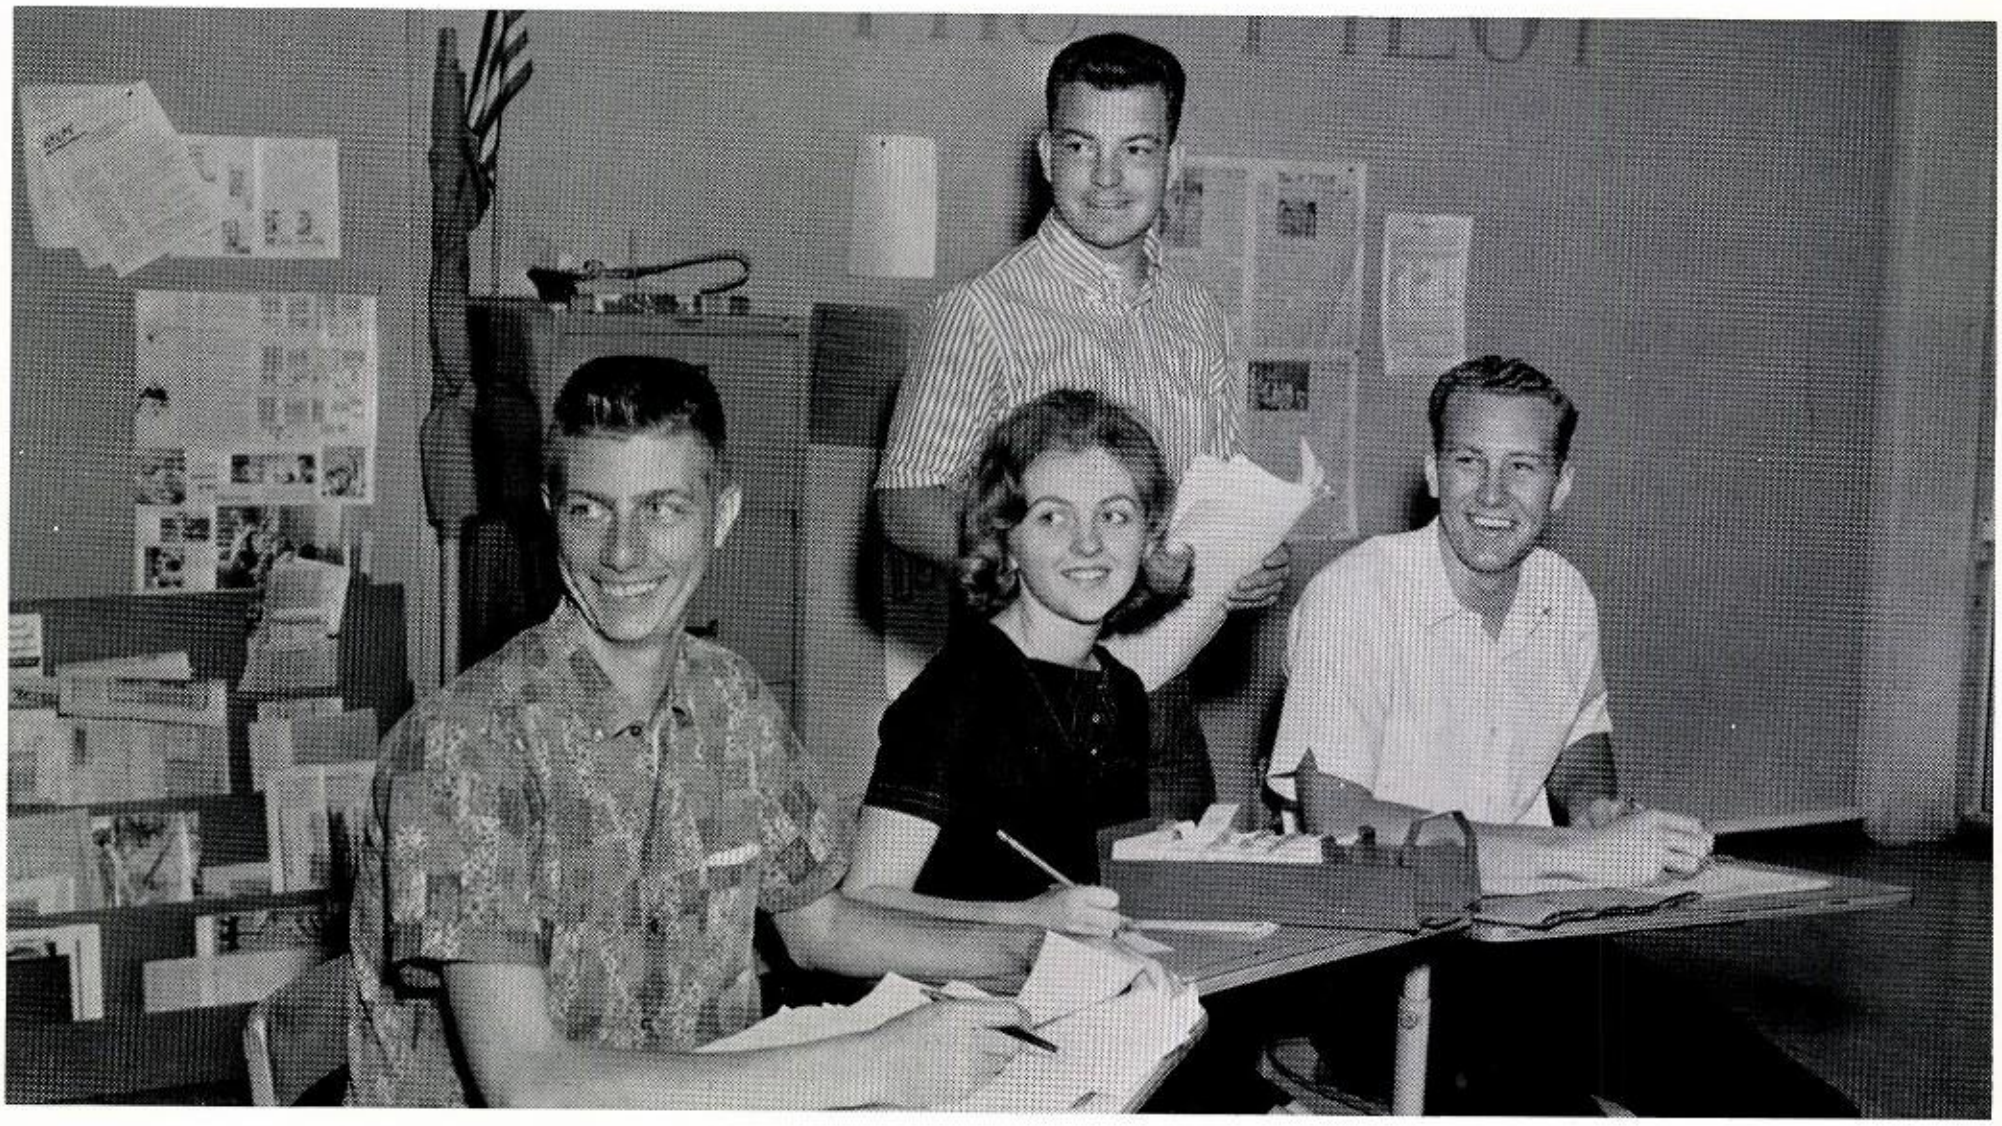
ity for Creativity

Judy Franklin edited the Girls' Sports section. Shirley Scogins aided in this section, and she also did the final editing of the Activities section.

Much of the success of the book depended upon this group. Betsey Meeker planned and edited the Organizations Ann Andrews provided help with Senior section and the Senior index. Steve Harris planned the cover and the division pages.

Pat Flanagan served as associate editor and aided in the business administration of the book.

Seniors Strive for New Look



Lyndon Wright, far right, edited the Senior section. He was aided by Jackie Spears, Trudy Wyble, and James Stilwell. It was their decision to try a new look in this section by placing the list of activities at the end of the section.

Frances Griffith and Lynn Bordelon planned the Favorites section.

While Others Look for Accuracy

Deanna Denbo, Clubs editor, rejoicingly turns the pages of her section over to Randy Pratt.

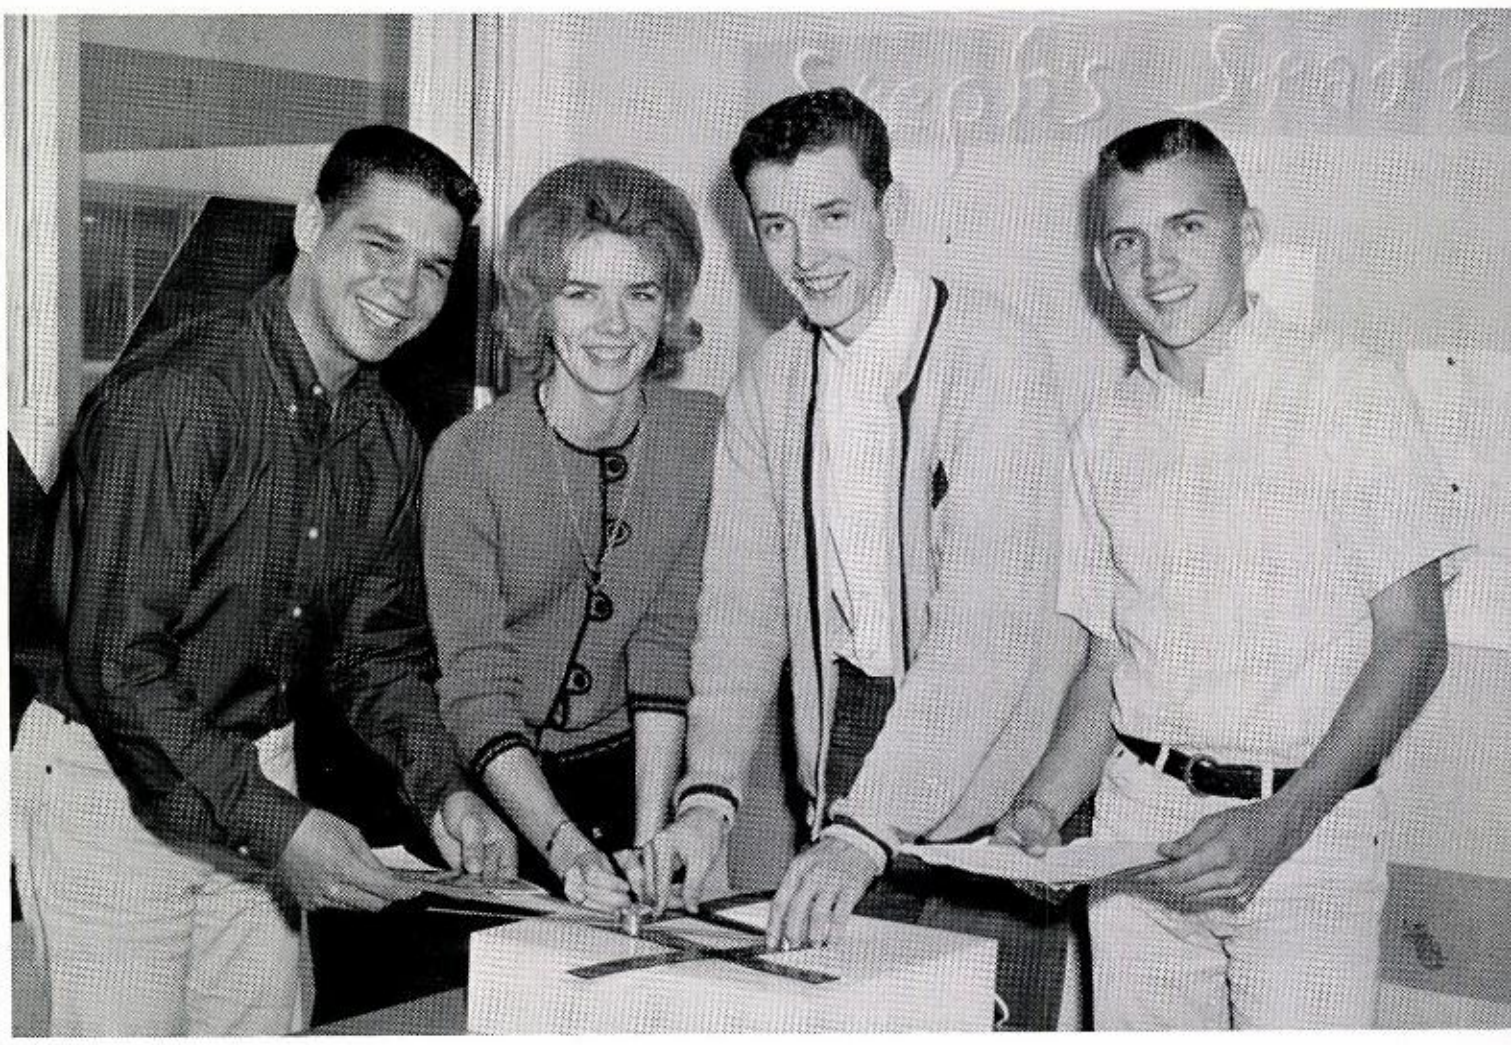
Rena Grossfield, left, was officially Faculty and Honors editor, but her great versatility made her one of the most valuable members of the staff. She was assisted by Maurine Hooks.

Sophomore and Junior sections require unusual devotion to accuracy because so many pictures are involved. Charlotte Robbs and Madeline Kampini assisted Kay Powell, sophomore editor. Dianne Borel was Junior editor and she was assisted by Penny and Peggy Thomas.

Dedication to Kennedy Decided by Sports Staff

The Sports section, headed by Boomy Hopkins, did a thorough job of coverage. He was aided by Richard Taft, Tommy Hicks, and Gary San Angelo.

It was their idea to dedicate the sports section to the late President John F. Kennedy in honor of his interest in the physical fitness program.



When it comes to getting out a yearbook, there are many factors to consider and many jobs to be done. This group did the initial planning on the Activities section: Chad Jacobs, Roxie Roll, Bruce Davis, and Ronnie Hudson.

The Story Is Completed

So the story of THE LIVELY ONES from September, 1963, until June. 1964, comes to a close. THE YELLOW JACKET staff looks back over our efforts to compile a worthwhile account of the events that have taken place, and we find that we are indebted to many who have assisted us. Surely we should mention Mr. Roger Russell, art teacher, whose help in designing the book was freely given. Mr. W. G. Jones, director of Industrial Arts, has advised on a number of technical matters. Mr. P. T. Reynolds, bookkeeping teacher, put his skills to use once more and kept the advertising accounts straight. Staff member Ann Claire Cotham sold the greatest part of the ads.

Our photographers Frank Cricchio, J. C. Watkins, and Mrs. Arthur Rice made the pictures that play a key role. Our publishers, Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, have furnished excellent materials and advice.

Those who aided in any way—by buying a book, by posing for a picture, by collecting money in homerooms—have contributed to our picture of THE LIVELY ONES, and we thank you.
